

director of the Burns agents employed by the Sinclair-Fall defense to trail the Teapot jurors. The detective insisted that his agency's services were not enlisted until it was announced that the jury was not to be locked up. Then, he said, his men were assigned merely to see that "nobody connected with them."

Teak Up Shadowing Oct. 11.
The records seized by the government in the raid on the headquarters of Burns operatives here show that the sleuths were concentrated in Washington ready for service on Oct. 11, the day the Teapot jury was completed and sworn in for the trial. Other records taken at the same time indicate that the elder Burns personally assigned some of the agents to Washington.

When confronted with these records today, Burns insisted that the mention of his name in the reports was a stenographic error. He said that his son, W. S. Burns, had assigned the agents and that where "Principal W. J. B." was referred to in the reports they should have read "Principal W. S. B."

Burns made his big point when he charged that two of his agents had trailed Assistant Attorney General Lamb and saw the latter in conversation with Juror Norman L. Glascock at the Potomac flying field in nearby Virginia on Oct. 11. Lamb is the assistant attorney general whom Mark Thompson, counsel for Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, in the Teapot Dome case, asked another assistant attorney general to investigate.

Falls to Explain Delay.
Burns did not explain why, if his agents believed Lamb was attempting to influence Glascock, they did not immediately report the occurrence to Justice Siders instead of waiting until Nov. 5 to submit their affidavits which describe their shadowing of Lamb.

Lamb was called before the grand jury. Later he declared that he had never visited the Potomac flying field, had never met Juror Glascock, or any other member of the Teapot jury, and had no interest in the Teapot case. He said that he had an automobile answering the description given in the detective's report and asserted that frequently the mechanics in the garage where it is kept have used it.

"I've been investigating juries for the government for thirty-five years," Burns declared, "and I know how the government operates in shadowing and observing juries."

Discusses Any Intimidations.
Asked if he meant that the government has used its secret service agents in the past to influence and intimidate jurors in order to secure convictions, he hastily replied that he meant nothing of the kind, and that the government's activities in investigating jurors were "honest and above board."

Burns admitted he was at a loss to explain why Day, summoned before the grand jury, refused to testify for fear of self-incrimination.

"If I had been in Day's place I would have walked in here and cried to get in," Burns declared. "The chances are now that you will find him as a witness in the next Sinclair-Fall trial telling all about this. My policy is to lay the cards on the table and tell the public all about it."

PARIS, Nov. 7.—Anna Ludmilla, former premier danseuse of the Chicago Civic opera, turned her back today on the classic dance. She announced she had signed to do a jazz song and dance turn with Georges Carpentier, the well known former trader in fisticuffs. M. Carpentier trips the light fantastic to the accompaniment of an orchestra now instead of the solitary bell that guided him on and off many a canvas.

They will open at Nice on Nov. 12.

Disappeared from Washington just as federal marshals were about to serve him with a grand jury summons and who was found Saturday in Hampton Roads, Virginia, in a marine corps unit about to sail for Haiti, was the "mystery" witness of the day.

Catchin, who is reported to have said just before he fled, "If I can get out of the country I'm fixed for life," was brought to the courthouse this morning by a marine sergeant. He was taken into the grand jury room immediately after W. S. Burns was excused. After testifying briefly he was given back in charge of the sergeant, who was ordered to bring him back tomorrow.

Sheldon Clark, prominent Chicago politician and vice president of the Sinclair Refining company, who also disappeared just when he was to have been served with a summons, arrived in Washington today and will appear before the grand jury tomorrow. Clark, it is charged, was a "contact" man between Sinclair and the Burns agents.

Three members of the Teapot jury, are also to appear before the grand jury tomorrow.

and then will fill a series of engagements at Marseilles and Barcelona before returning to Paris for the height of the winter season.

Gorgeous Georges' new partner is one of the greatest classical artists on the American stage. When surprise was expressed at her deserting the more serious in favor of the merry King Jazz, she said her heart still is with the classical work and she probably will return to it later.

Anna refused to comment on M. Carpentier's dancing abilities, according to her standards, but remarked that his personality would put over anything he tried to do—outside the ring.

PLANNING AIRWAY LINE NORTH TO SOUTH AMERICA

New York, Nov. 7.—[Special.]—Control of a through airway line which will connect North and South America, handling passengers, express and mail by airplane, is being sought by a group of Wall street financiers in the organization of the Atlantic, Gulf and Caribbean Air Line, Inc., it was learned today.

The group includes Percy A. Rockefeller, Richard P. Hoyt and other members of the brokerage firm of Hayden, Stone & Co.

The new company has bought up the controlling interest and is now the holding company of Pan-American Airways. Owing to the uncertainty of regular passenger traffic on American airways, the program of linking up the two continents of the western hemisphere by an air line will wait upon the organization of air mail business between North and South America.

ROSA BLEDZO'S BOND FORFEITED IN KIDNAP CASE

So many courtrooms were in readiness yesterday for the appearance of Rosa Bledzo, the former sweetheart of Yellow Kid Weil, that she couldn't go to all of them. She accompanied by going to none.

With Harold Partner, of 4023 North Racine avenue, and Theodore Korshak, of 1113 Douglas boulevard, Miss Bledzo, was arrested Friday night on a charge of disorderly conduct. It was alleged that the trio assaulted and tried to kidnap Joseph Tenner, an orchestra leader. Partner appeared and demonstrated a jury trial. Judge Hartigan then forfeited the bond of Miss Bledzo and Korshak and issued orders for their arrest.

Employees of the Goethe Shore apartment hotel, 61 East Goethe street, appeared in the Chicago avenue court and announced they would prosecute Miss Bledzo for giving a worthless check to pay a board bill. She was to have appeared in South Clark street court where a case against Tenner, with her as complainant, was to come up. Tenner was freed.

ACQUITTED IN 25 MINUTE TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

In a trial that lasted only twenty-five minutes Joseph Annosimo, also known as Peppy Genaro, charged with the murder of Michael Vini, was acquitted by a jury before Judge Harry Lewis yesterday. The main issue was a brother of Jimmy Vini, well known gangster, who was also a victim of murder.

The principal testimony given by Assistant State's Attorney Harry N. Pritsker was a detailed statement of Michael Vini. Three policemen asserted that he had muttered while on the operating table: "Get Peppy, get Peppy." Judge Lewis barred this statement from the jury, on the ground that the word Peppy was not positive identification of Annosimo and that Vini did not know at the time that he was dying.

Annosimo, third of the Vini brothers, is now serving a twenty-five year term in the penitentiary. He shot and killed John Minnatti while the latter was testifying at the coroner's inquest into the death of Michael.

In the French Provinces of long ago the art of gracious living was exemplified. And there, as in the country districts of New England, humble craftsmen fashioned furniture based on the general lines of that made by the great designers, but of a naive simplicity born of their manner of living.

Today these quaint pieces often have greater value for our homes than the more ornate designs, because they are right in scale and free from those artificialities against which Americans of today rebel.

The designs of the Danerak French Provincial group are based on genuine old pieces, and are in complete accord with the spirit of feminine charm associated with this period. On display in our salesrooms.

Deaths in Shanghai Mar Red Anniversary.

BULLETIN.

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)
PEKING, Nov. 7.—A communist inspired peasant revolt has occurred in Tientsin, Chihli province, about 100 miles east of Peking, due to excessive taxation. The magistrate of several members of the chamber of commerce were slain and the peasants have assumed control. The revolt is being suppressed by the army. The celebration on the tenth anniversary of the revolution, being held in Shanghai, is being celebrated with the usual enthusiasm. The celebration is being celebrated with the usual enthusiasm. SHANGHAI, Nov. 7.—A mob of about 100 Russians, including many women, gathered in the vicinity of the Russian consulate here tonight and smashed windows. They tried to break down the door of the consulate but were repulsed. The consulate guards inside the building opened fire, killing two of the mob. Among the dead was one woman. The Chinese authorities have declared martial law in the territories adjacent to the consulate. British troops have been ordered to handle any further trouble.

The anti-soviet demonstrations by the whites. Russians who were killed were incidental to the soviet celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Russian revolution. At 10 a. m. a mob of about 100 Russians, including many women, gathered in the vicinity of the Russian consulate here tonight and smashed windows. They tried to break down the door of the consulate but were repulsed. The consulate guards inside the building opened fire, killing two of the mob. Among the dead was one woman. The Chinese authorities have declared martial law in the territories adjacent to the consulate. British troops have been ordered to handle any further trouble.

Soviet Guards Open Fire.
At 1 p. m. a number of white Russians held a memorial service for the Russian empire in the local orthodox churches, following which they went to the soviet consulate and began throwing stones and smashing windows. At first there was only about 50, but the mob quickly grew to more than 100 whites, carrying old empire flags and wearing emblems.
The attack on the soviet consulate, Consul General B. Kostovskiy said, "is the result of activities of certain local interests, particularly the local British press, which is opposed to the soviet government and is trying to crush it. Owing to the fact that the local British police and authorities are unable or unwilling to give us the protection to which we are entitled as accredited consulates to the Chinese government, we are bound to protect ourselves."

"We have no apprehension regarding the attitude of the rank and file whites here, who are mostly law abiding peasants, but there are many more serious military officers here who are being urged on by certain imperialist European governments and Shanghai diehards, including the British press of Shanghai, hoping to provoke an incident."

1,000,000 in Moscow Celebrate.
MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—(U. P.)—A single shrieking mob of a million men, women and children surged through the Red bannered streets of Moscow today in celebration of the tenth anniversary of bolshevism.
From the freezing Siberian steppes to the Ukraine, the shores of the Black sea and the fringe of the Arctic they came to participate in the greatest soviet demonstration since 1917, when the bolsheviks captured Petrograd and overthrew the provisional government of Alexander Kerensky.

It was a characteristic Russian social display. All the theatres in the city were fair for the dramatic were given. Emotions were given free.

Children and Aged March.
Children of 3 and infirm men of 70 were massed in the dense columns of humanity which filled the streets leading to Red square and the decorated walls where stands the tomb of Vladimir Lenin, the soviet idol.
From the flat top of the tomb, the most important leaders of the country, including all of whom had played big parts in the bolshevik revolution, stood on the peasants and workers, and shouted short speeches as they passed. Loud speakers amplified the speakers' voices to every corner of the city.

"Long live soviet," Mikhail I. Kalinin, president of the central executive committee of the soviet union, shouted into the microphone atop Lenin's mausoleum.
"Hurray," replied a million men, women and children in a prolonged shout. Ten minutes of cannonading followed the tremendous "hurray."

Try This Before Making Engine Repairs
CHECK the ignition and look over the spark plugs over when the engine fails short of the performance that it once had. Many times expensive repairs are not needed when all that is needed is a new set of spark plugs. All spark plugs in time of trouble, and need to be replaced. HUNT PLAYMATES OF BOY ON FATAL HUNTING PARTY

La Grange police under the direction of Chief Otto Pitts and Capt. William Deholdt were last night seeking a group of boys who on Sunday went hunting with Elmer Kihn, 13, of La Grange and one of whom is believed to have accidentally shot and killed the boy.

The boy's body was found on the bank of Salt creek in the forest preserve near the suburb. He had been shot once in the forehead with a .22 caliber rifle. His own rifle was found in the creek about 300 feet away. Young Kihn had been missing from his home since Sunday morning. His body was found by a group of Boy Scouts.

The police advanced the theory that the boy had been accidentally slain by one of his companions while the latter was indulging in target practice. They based this theory on the finding of a number of broken bottles and several cans with holes in them, apparently made by rifle bullets. They believe that Elmer stepped into the line of fire or was setting up a can as a target when the gun was discharged. The rifle, according to Mrs. Helen Kihn, widowed mother of the boy, did not belong to her son.

"RUSSIA FIRST," SOVIET DREAM, CHICAGOAN SAYS

Soviet Russia is not, after all, such a frightful place to live in—if one is a Russian. Conditions probably will improve, in the opinion of J. A. Garcia, a Chicago engineering firm. He is back after several months in Russia.

"Russia has its law and order," he said. "Also its propaganda and plenty to drink. Rubles are hard to get, excepting by work, and the most diligent worker can get 250 a month—about $125—but that will provide a fairly luxurious living in Russia."

"Russia resembles Chicago in the persistence with which patriotic slogans are given to the people. I continually heard the 'Russia first' theme in a variety of forms. Now in Chicago I hear 'America first.'"

"The Russian propaganda centers in the cities are conducted efficiently. From the centers they spread verbal propaganda by phone and amplifiers that are in use during working hours in factories."

CABARET OWNER BOUND OVER ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Jacob Adler, owner of the Midtown Prolicafe at 15-25 East 23d street, was yesterday held to the federal grand jury on charges of possessing intoxicating liquors. United States Commissioner James B. Glavin, in discussing the case, said he was against Adler, and violation charges against Floyd Smith, waiter, and Charles Mosley, porter, said he did not believe a conviction would result on trial of the case.

Prohibition Agents Samuel Lewis and George Richeson told of taking Miss Margaret Niblo, 4659 North Hine avenue, to the cafe and purchasing liquor. Lewis testified that Niblo was sitting on the bar in the cabaret and drank only from the two bottles of liquor that he and Richeson provided. He admitted under cross-examination of Attorney James Glavin, vice-president Adler, that he had to assist Miss Niblo when leaving the place.

OTHERS OF HOME BREW MALT SEIZURE

Search Warrant Is Held
Illegal by Court.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Government efforts to stop sales of malt and other materials for use in brewing was partly rebuffed in federal court here today.

Federal Judge William A. Cant held that the seizure of the $15,000 stock of the Clee Supply company here today and ordered it released, subject to a libel proceeding also brought by the government.

Holds Warrant Illegal.
The search warrant under which the seizure was made was held technically illegal by the court, and for that reason, it was indicated, Judge Cant would grant release of the stock from the libel action under proper request.

Andrew J. Volstead, who gave his name to the prohibition enforcement act, and who is continuing his fight against the sale of alcohol, was the government's chief legal adviser in the prohibition enforcement case, saw no serious setback for the government in Judge Cant's decision.

It is the government's intention, it was indicated, to proceed with the prosecution of both criminal and libel suits against the Clee company's president, Leo F. Brill, on the grounds that he is illegally selling materials for the manufacture of intoxicating liquors.

Less Liquor Evidence.
St. Louis City, Mo., Nov. 7.—(Special).—St. Louis City's greatest liquor seizure probably to be thrown out of court today, as the federal court here today held that the search warrant used in the seizure was illegal. The warehouse owners and others were indicted, charged with conspiracy to violate prohibition laws. The defendants asked to quash the indictments on the ground that the search warrant was illegal. Judge Scott held that the warrant was illegal. In his opinion, the search warrant was issued without sufficient facts, and that it was an attempt to circumvent the law. He said that the search warrant was issued without sufficient facts, and that it was an attempt to circumvent the law. He said that the search warrant was issued without sufficient facts, and that it was an attempt to circumvent the law.

DISCUSS REZONING HYDE PARK FOR 24 STORY FLATS

Residents of Hyde Park took a straw vote yesterday on a rezoning proposal which may result in the transformation of that district into another Streeterville, with towering apartment hotels.

At Leonard J. Grossman's (8th) meeting out a questionnaire to all property owners asking their opinion on the proposed rezoning. If a majority was favorable he will ask the council to act accordingly.

The present building height is twelve stories whereas the rezoning would increase it to twenty-four stories. It would also permit business houses in part of the area. The district affected is bounded by the Illinois Central station, Hyde Park boulevard, 56th street and the lake.

With the opening of the new outer city, a letter accompanying the questionnaire stated, "it is apparent that the district is a potential Streeterville, rezoning would mean enhancement of property values, although it would eventually mean the replacement of small and small apartments."

Phillips Farm House of Hall Case Fame Burns

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Phillips farmhouse in De Runsey's, the residence of the Rev. E. D. Phillips, W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, was today found 300 feet from the lake. The building was once owned by the De Runsey family, after which the lake made famous by the Phillips case was named. The structure was destroyed by flames last night.

Women Arrested as Son Is Hurt Fighting Father

Mrs. Margaret Byers of 3261 East 29th street, was arrested last night by the South Chicago police when county hospital physicians stated that Anthony Durkin, 24 years old, may die from a fractured skull. Durkin, who lives in the same house, had been quarreling with his father, John Durkin. Mrs. Byers asked that they be quiet and the youth struck at her, it was alleged. In the scuffle Mrs. Byers tripped Durkin and he fell down a flight of stairs. Before learning the seriousness of her son's condition, Mrs. Durkin signed complaints of disorderly conduct against both Anthony and his father.

COLORADO STRIKE LOSES LEADERS; THIRTY ARRESTED

Denver, Colo., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Striking miners in Colorado coal fields tonight found themselves without a directing head following a concerted drive by state police which resulted in the arrest of all known strike leaders, including a score of I. W. W. agitators. Impromptu a total stamping out of picketing in the southern strike area. The state's determination to suppress such activity by the strikers was emphasized by the strengthening of a special state law enforcement unit. Among the strike leaders held incommunicado in jail tonight were Roger Francison, chairman of the national executive committee of the I. W. W., and Kristen Swanson, in charge of all I. W. W. activities in coal and metal mines. Members of the I. W. W. at Walsenburg hurried back at the state a declaration that "five new leaders will spring up for each one arrested."

While order prevailed in the southern section following the arrests, first reports were made of organized picketing in the mines north of Denver. Pickets prevented an attempt to operate the Imperial mine, which had been leased by 35 miners.

Opening of Safety Driving Week Marred by 2 Deaths

"Drive safely week," proposed by the Chicago Motor club, proclaimed by Mayor William Hale Thompson, and enforced by the police department, opened yesterday as a boy and an adult died, of auto injuries. They deaths raised Cook county's motor toll to 781 since Jan. 1.

Louis Gann, 8 years old, 12345 Yale avenue, died from injuries received Sunday night. He was struck at 1234 street and Yale avenue by an automobile driven by Julius Prokup, 234 West 119th street.

Tony Mall, 38 years old, 11714 South Michigan avenue, was fatally injured when he slipped from the platform of a street car at State and 18th streets, and rolled under the wheels of a taxicab.

Dr. J. W. Pritchard of the Kenilworth sanitarium was held by Walsenburg strike leaders out of Huerfano county.

On a large mesa northeast of the town signal fires were burning and rockets were being sent up continually. Reports that 145 automobiles carrying strikers were massed north of Walsenburg caused state police to set up a machine gun in the courthouse where 18 I. W. W. leaders were held.

George C. Dickinson, 50 years old, 5948 Overhill avenue, Edison Park, was probably fatally injured when the automobile he was driving was struck by a Chicago and North Western passenger train at Harlem avenue.

Frank Atlas, 55, of the Edgewater Beach hotel, head of the investment company bearing his name at 1554 Howard street, and his wife, Sarah, were injured when the taxicab in which they were riding collided with another taxi and overturned at Wacker drive and State street. Police said both were badly hurt.

Homeward bound from the funeral of a relative in Petersburg, Ill., four Chicagoans were injured, one probably fatally, when their automobile plunged from a highway near Lincoln, Ill., yesterday and overturned in a ditch.

James Kelly, 53, will probably die, it was said, and his brother, Thomas, 55, suffered a broken leg. The others injured were a cousin, Mrs. Katherine Cooper, and an unidentified youth.

DISEASE PERILS FLOOD VICTIMS; TOWN IN FLAMES

Dead Now 150; Property
Loss $150,000,000.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—The flood sufferers of New England, made at last in most states from the menace of rising water, today faced the new perils of disease and cold weather.

With the death total now placed at 150 and rising as contacts with more isolated towns are established and the property damage fixed at $150,000,000, the swollen rivers that brought about the disaster were receding, and, hour by hour, more food besieged towns and villages were becoming accessible to relief parties.

Ludlow Bakery Burns.
In two of the towns today fire added its menace to the snow and cold. In Ludlow the bakery, perhaps the most important building in the town at this time, was burned, and at Cambridge, Vt., further in the northwest, another fire raged for a time.

Epidemic is now the greatest danger to New England. With thousands of acres inundated and the water stagnating in vast untrained plots, health authorities here have sent out grave warnings to the residents of the flood region to boil all water to be used for drinking. Typhoid vaccine is being carried into western Massachusetts and Vermont by motor as fast as swampy roads will allow.

Snow squalls and cold weather added to the discomfort of the sufferers, thousands of them homeless and improperly clothed. If the flood water freezes it will make drainage slower.

No Heat or Dry Clothing.
Between the towns of Waterbury, Bolton, and Duxbury, Vt., existed the real emergency. In isolated farmhouses water still was coming from the sides, families still are living without heat, dry clothing, or medicine.

Army troops played an important part in the relief work. Waterbury, Vt., is under the strictest regulations. St. Johnsbury, Vt., is under martial law and everybody there is compelled to work. Troops were called to duty in Newport, and Montpelier still is policed by national guardsmen.

The little town of Bolton defied the relief agencies all day, and it is the only town in the Winoski valley into which trucks had not penetrated. It was here that 21 highway workmen lost their lives when a boarding house was swept away.

The peak of the flood in the Connecticut valley has passed Springfield, Mass., leaving 7,500 homeless in its wake, and was coursing toward the mouth of the Connecticut river.

$4,500,000,000 GOLD IN U. S., 55 PER CENT OF WORLD SUPPLY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—[AP.]—Latest treasury figures place the gold stock in this country at $4,500,000,000, which represents 55 per cent of the gold coin of the world.

The United States also can claim distinction for having more gold coin in one spot than anywhere on the face of the earth as $2,000,000,000 in gold is stored in the government's assay office in New York, representing 4,000 tons in weight.

FOUND DEAD IN GAS FILLED ROOM.
Eastabec, Ill., Nov. 7.—[AP.]—G. W. Baker, 45, Council Bluffs, Ia., was found dead in a rooming house here today. A gas jet in a stove was turned on and Baker was found lying in bed fully clothed.

LINER BATTLES GALE 12 DAYS; SAFE IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 7.—[Special.]—While New York shivered in the icy blasts sweeping off the Atlantic, the North German Lloyd liner Lusitania beat its way into port today, forty-eight hours late.

For twelve days the ship had battled the gale raging over the ocean. It was not damaged, but Capt. A. Winter declared the storm was one of the worst he had encountered in twenty years.

Almost all of the 615 passengers were seasick throughout the voyage.

he said. They found little comfort when they debarked at New York, for the mercury at noon registered 33 degrees.

The Carmania of the Cunard line is expected to be a full day late because of the gale.

The twenty-four hour delay of the Leviathan is the farthest the big liner ever has been off schedule. The Leviathan is bringing Gen. Pershing and a number of other notables from France and England.

The storm not only disrupted shipping schedules for boats in the North Atlantic trade routes but seriously delayed all ships plying between New York and southern and West Indian ports.

Among those due today which advised their New York offices they would be delayed were the United Fruit liner Ulua, inbound from the West Indies, which will not dock until tomorrow, the Samaria, the Minnekahta, the Berlin, and the Venezuela.

Snow in North Dakota.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 7.—[AP.]—Snowfall, ranging from a trace to three inches at Devils Lake, N. D., was reported throughout the northwest today; Minot, N. D., and Hibbing, Minn., reported 13 inches, while Rapid City, S. D., had a minimum of 10.

Madden Back from Tour of Panama Canal Zone

New York, Nov. 7.—[AP.]—Representative Martin B. Madden, Republican of Chicago, chairman of the appropriations committee, returned today from the Canal Zone, where he made a survey in connection with a proposal to build a dam on the Chagres river. The dam, he said, would permit the passage of double the number of ships which now can be sent through the canal.

Four Ticket Scalpers, Two of Them Boys, Are Fined

Four ticket scalpers, two of them high school boys, were fined $100 and costs yesterday in the Boys' court by Judge Francis B. Allegretti. They were arrested Saturday at Hagg field by Sgt. Thomas Mulcahy's detective bureau squad, while scalping tickets for the Maroon game. They are Max Harrison, 40, of 5510 Drexel avenue; James Feingold, 22, of 1238 South Lawndale avenue; Morris Brown, 17, of 1635 South Lawndale avenue; a Marshall High school student, and John Holzman, 18, of 1509 South Springfield avenue, a Crane High school student. A motion to vacate sentence was continued until Nov. 29.

Healthy as he looks ... a romping bundle of energy!

OUT in all kinds of weather... exposed to childhood diseases... yet he comes through smiling... a romping bundle of energy!

Doctors tell us right food is of vast importance in maintaining child health and vitality. And of all foods none is more important than good, pure butter.

Butter's great value is due not alone to food calories. Even more largely it is due to those substances known as vitamins.

Blue Valley is rich in vitamins and other body building elements largely because of the exceptional experience and "know how" that go into its making.

Blue Valley years ago learned that, while fine, thoroughly pasteurized cream is necessary to a superlative butter, vastly more important is skilled technique and scientific procedure.

As a result, the Blue Valley Research Laboratories were founded, with Professor Otto F. Hunziker as directing head, literally marking a new era in fine butter making.

But try Blue Valley! Note its matchless aroma, its marvelous uniformity, its wondrous flavor—a flavor that all children keenly relish. Blue Valley Creamery Company, 1137 West Jackson Blvd., Chicago. Telephone Monroe 7420.

At these morning feasts Grandmother Mickelberry made sausage famous Farm sausage was not confined to the Mickelberry Plantation in those early days.

But it was Grandmother Mickelberry, through the witchery of her skillful blending, who made these little farm sausages famous for miles around.

Her occasional sausage breakfasts—when she made the dainty nuggets of tantalizing flavor with her own hands—became famous events which only a few select friends and their guests were privileged to enjoy.

At these feasts-de-sausage, it was noted that good appetites prevailed. All partook freely and enjoyably of the golden brown sausages.

For Grandmother Mickelberry's secret Southern recipe not only whetted the appetite but actually inspired digestion.

Mickelberry's old farm sausage is made today just as Grandmother Mickelberry made it.

A treasured heirloom, her famous recipe has never left the Mickelberry family. And none has ever successfully imitated it.

Good for the whole family

These little farm sausages are now served frequently as a valued item in the diet of thousands of modern families. Also in clubs, hotels and on our finest trains.

Mickelberry's is made and delivered fresh each day, in the famous green and yellow package.

WARNS TEACHERS TO EXPECT SCRIPT PAY AFTER JAN. 1

Trustee Says Funds Are Almost Gone.

While President J. Lewis Coath and other members of the board of education were in Washington with Mayor Thompson's food control junket and board attorneys were preparing for another onslaught on Supt. William McAndrew, Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, trustee, yesterday declared that the school's educational fund was rapidly dwindling and that after Jan. 1 teachers might be paid in script.

Mrs. Hefferan, who last week was appointed by the board as its delegate to the vocational education conference in Los Angeles Dec. 15, yesterday reported that appointment, giving the

MAYOR THOMPSON FORCED TO ENDURE PROPAGANDA THIRST

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Mayor William Hale Thompson was posing for photographers in front of the White House today when an operator of a motion picture camera called for a "big smile."

"That's easy," laughed the mayor, "now you tell me where a man can get a drink. They tell me the embassies have the best liquor around here."

"That's true," interrupted a reporter, "and the British embassy has the best liquor in town. Why don't you try them?"

"You know I couldn't go there," the mayor said.

board's shortage of funds as her excuse.

"On Dec. 31," Mrs. Hefferan said, "there will be only $460,000 in the educational fund, and no money will be coming in from the new tax levy until late in February. Our weekly expenses amount to more than a million and a half dollars. Unless something happens I don't see how the board can avoid paying the teachers in script."

Boycott on Joliet.

Meanwhile the board's building and grounds committee was trying to extradite King George III. from school boilers.

At a meeting of the committee Trustee James A. Hemingway objected to giving a contract for boilers in the new Spaulding school to the Haggy-Simpson company of Joliet because the mayor of Joliet had refused to join Mayor Thompson's America First association.

"I for one—and I think several others will join with me—prefer not to vote for a Joliet product," Trustee Hemingway said. "I think the mayor of Joliet should know of the harm his sayings have done." Chairman Schmidt replied that it was a "very good suggestion," and the matter was taken under advisement.

Sentiment against the "acting of politicians" in the public schools and on the library board was expressed by Dr. George S. Mills, pastor of the Wellington Avenue Congregational church at a meeting of Congregational ministers.

Attack Delay of Trial.

On the heels of an announcement that Joseph P. Brittain had resigned as chairman of the citizens' public education commission, came a resolution passed unanimously by the board of governors of that organization, condemning the actions of the board of education in prosecuting the trial of Supt. McAndrew "for political purposes." The resolution, it was stated, was passed over the head of Chairman Brittain, who did not vote.

"Whereas it is now evident, beyond any possibility of doubt," the resolution states, "that the trial of the superintendent of schools is being prosecuted for political purposes only."

"Be it resolved that the citizens' public education commission reaffirms its positive position that partisan political control of the schools is sinister, destructive, and subversive of all proper training for citizenship, and in the name of the community demands that the trial of the superintendent be conducted in a proper manner, and brought to a prompt conclusion that order and decency in the administration of the schools be restored."

ZIEGEMEIER ARRIVES TOMORROW TO TAKE POST AT GREAT LAKES

Rear Admiral Henry Joseph Ziegemeier will arrive tomorrow in Chicago and go at once to the Great Lakes Naval Training station, where he will be installed Thursday as commandant. He succeeds Capt. John F. Hines, who is retiring from naval service.

A review of sailors at the station and a rear admiral's salute of seventeen guns will feature the ceremonies incident to the installation. Admiral Ziegemeier recently returned to Washington after a tour of sea duty as commander of battleship division No. 3 of the United States battle fleet. For a short time he was in charge of the fleet training section of the bureau of navigation following his return. He was born 58 years ago in Pennsylvania.

Pola Negri in Hospital After Heart Attack

BRITONS FIND OWN HISTORY TUTORS ARE NOT SO GOOD

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Mr. B. H. Thompson's pious crusade for the purification of public education in Chicago has brought a rebuke in London. But the London county council school authorities are actuated by no such holy motive as "keeping King Collage out of London."

Instead, they have issued the blunt opinion that a goodly number of the public school teachers of history here simply don't know what they are talking about, with the result that their youthful charges are learning even less. A survey of forty-one schools is said to have revealed the startling fact that not more than 83 children out of 1,305 can correctly assign three names to each of four consecutive centuries in British history.

As a refreshing exception, however, it is reported that one modest little school for girls in a poor district revealed that the pupils were devoting two hours daily to the individual study of history and other subjects.

HIS LOVING JAG LANDS HIM IN ARMS OF POLICE

Leo Griswold of Cedar Rapids arrived in Chicago last night, a living testament to Iowa's fine corn crop.

Leo walked up on to the elevated station at Congress and Wabash, picked out a trim young woman, and draped his arm affectionately around her shoulders.

"All the world loves a lover," he said.

"Phew!" the young woman said. "What a breath!" And then she ran down the stairs to get a policeman.

Leo started to follow, but when he got to the mezzanine deck he met another chic young miss. He simply spread his arms and she walked into them.

"Let at love be free; free love is for the best," Leo quoted. The young woman slapped him soundly.

About this time the first girl returned with Detective Sergeant Archie Kane.

"Love me and the world is mine," yodled Leo, falling into Kane's arms.

FAHERTY PROBES 4 STORY TUBES UNDER LONDON

Many Tips for Chicago in 6 Hour Investigation.

Why Are We Here?

[Copyright: 1927, By The New York Times.]
LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Daily Mail says that while "Big Bill" Thompson, mayor of Chicago, has been demanding the extinction of every iota of English influence from education of American children, he has sent a delegation to England to study details of the traffic and transportation systems of this country so he may copy them in Chicago. The delegation, the Daily Mail says, comprises sixteen business men of Chicago, headed by Michael J. Faherty, Big Bill's right hand man.

"Why am I in London?" Mr. Faherty is quoted as saying. "I guess it is because London has something good to teach me."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1927, By The Chicago Tribune.]
LONDON, Nov. 7.—Chicago's visiting subway delegation, accompanied by THE TRIBUNE's correspondent, went down into the bowels of London at 10 a. m. and did not come up until 4 p. m., except for lunch and for a glimpse of sunlight, which, of course, they did not get.

The first day of official inspection of London's mass of underground railways was spent whirling over the principal lines and prowling through the treacherous subterranean tunnels in the course of construction 100 feet below the surface.

The company officials and engineers, who acted as an escort, placed every facility at the disposal of the party. Chairman Michael J. Faherty said some of the most valuable tips of their European journey were obtained here.

Inspect New Terminal.
The gigantic subway terminal now being constructed under Piccadilly Circus for the wholesale handling of thousands of passengers hourly, was one of the chief objects of interest today, since the excavation problem is similar to that in Chicago. Four platform levels, linked by model escalators, are designed to keep the passengers circulating with a minimum of congestion, while ventilation is effected by the trains themselves, which force the air ahead of them through the close fitting tubes, the same as a piston.

"We will not have any such problem in Chicago for a long time," Mr. Faherty said. "But it is one we must consider for the future. We will profit by London's experiences and save thousands of dollars in expense which London might have saved if it had known thirty years ago what was coming."

Find Suburban Service Good.
The suburban service also was of much interest to the visitors, who were greatly impressed by a visit to the model station at Morden, fourteen miles from the center of the city, which is the last word in subway construction and passenger convenience.

The visitors inspected the world's finest public garage, which was constructed by the subway for the convenience of passengers. Passengers may motor from their country homes to the Morden station, where there is a huge model garage in which they may park their cars cheaply until they return in the evening.

The visitors were much interested in the new type of subway cars, beautifully fitted, with all doors pneumatically operated by a single guard. They also noted the "serve yourself" ticket machines, as well as the electric train announcers and "outside row," which is a cavity beside the rails under the station platform, where would-be third rail suicides can be thrust while the train passes.

Mr. Faherty and Dr. John Killean were guests at a soiree at the home of T. P. O'Connor last night, where they discussed "Big Bill" Thompson informally among other things, but their host guaranteed the guests that he was the only reporter present.

URGES ALABAMA GOVERNOR TO FIGHT KLAN RULE

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—Chiding Gov. Graves for his silence and challenging the executive to "openly declare for law enforcement and abolition of mob violence," and to put the forces of the state behind such a declaration, L. B. Rainey, former congressman, of Gadsden today joined other leaders in an appeal to end the reign of mask and lash in Alabama. The appeal was in the form

How well the true spirit of Thanksgiving is pictured in the sparkle of an exquisite table setting.

And how well Maison de Blanc Linens have played their traditional part in adding to the beauty and splendor of the setting—lending the final touch that completes the perfect ensemble.

Remember, too, with thanksgiving, that Maison de Blanc Linens are always reasonably priced.

KIMBALL PIANOS

"The Voice of an Old Friend"

WITH the passing of time, a piano with an appealing tone creates a feeling of intimacy with the owner—like the voice of a chosen friend.

The Kimball has been the favorite companion of leaders in the world of music from one generation to another. No piano has been selected oftener by leading artists for their private use, at the present time or in days long past.

Come and hear the tones that bring delight each evening to households by the hundred thousand throughout this continent. You will be delighted with the new period models offered on the occasion of our 70th Anniversary.

See also the classic-modern designs, the reproducing grands, uprights, and the players. We shall be glad to give you a demonstration whenever you find it convenient to call.

The Kimball "One-Price" policy assures the same full generous value to every purchaser. Partial payments if desired.

TERRORIZE GIRLS, STEAL $6,000 IN FOUR ROBBERIES

Bandits Invade Hotel, 2
Stores and Office.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Sam Johnson, burglary, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell by Judge William T. Rogers.

Thomas Whalen, burglary, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell by Judge Otto Kerner.

Bandit gangs yesterday escaped with $6,000 after terrorizing many witnesses of four holdups in widely separated parts of the city. Last night none of the robbers had been caught and police were redoubling their efforts to check the increasing number of early winter crimes.

The biggest haul in the sudden crime wave was made by two robbers who entered the Alamo hotel, 827 Wilson avenue, and locked two young women in a closet. They were Miss Jane Trigg, hotel secretary, and Miss Margaret Gary, bookkeeper. Both were counting the week-end receipts from the hotel and the Alamo cafe when the men appeared with drawn revolvers and forced them to turn over $3,500. A week ago the hotel was the scene of a testimonial banquet for Chief of Detectives William O'Connor.

Got $800 in Drug Store.

A few hours earlier Morris Ches, manager of a drug store in the Sheridan Plaza hotel, was robbed of $800 by three bandits. Twelve customers, several of them women, were ordered to hold their hands in the air while the holdup was in progress. Two shots were fired at Ches by one of the trio, whose aim was poor.

"Don't get tough with me, Bala," one of three bandits warned Miss Elsie Green, a cashier, when she ordered him out from behind her counter in a Walgreen drug store at Kedzie and Madison street. His companions compelled E. J. Brehm of 3525 Franklin boulevard to open the safe.

Threatened with Death.

Brehm, a new employe, was not familiar with the combination and was unable to open the safe until he consulted a memoranda book. The bandits became impatient and threatened to kill him for the delay. The robbers escaped with $1,200.

Three bandits armed with shotguns held up four employes and two customers of the Downey Coal company, 7551 Bennett avenue, and got $400. Miss Grace Kern and Miss Anna Melnhart, girl clerks, were among those lined up against the wall and searched. Robert Kearns, 7907 East End avenue, is the manager.

CARPENTER FALLS TO DEATH.
William Sells, 54, of 7257 Ridgeland avenue, a carpenter, was killed in a fall while at work on the new sanitary disposal plant in Hickory yesterday.

CLUBWOMEN TAKE UP OAK STREET BEACH PROBLEM

Mass meetings on behalf of the hundreds of thousands of Chicagoans who frequent the Oak street beach during the bathing season, to arouse an organized protest against insanitary conditions there, were suggested yesterday at a meeting of the 42d and 43d ward members of the Woman's City club, held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Perkins at 2 Banks street.

A contract signed years ago between the Lincoln park board and the adjacent property owners provided that no buildings could be constructed on the street level at that point, consequently sanitary facilities have never been provided. As thousands swarm to the beach every warm day, the problem has become acute.

During the winter months the Woman's City club, which brought about the construction of temporary bath houses at North avenue, will endeavor to solve the Oak street problem. Several plans, including construction of a comfort station beneath the street level, will be proposed to the park board.

You may or may not remember what a great Overcoat Sale was held here last November, but there are a considerable number of men in Chicago who shared and will continue to share our enthusiasm for those Coats. We don't want to boast, but we have reason to believe these Coats are even better values than those. We know Overcoats, that's our business, but anyone will be able to appreciate what "a find" any single one of these is "at a glance."

Styles—Materials

Dozens of styles! Scores of materials! Ulsters, Chesterfields, double and single-breasted; styles for the short, the tall, the lean, the large. Weaves and materials at which you will marvel—soft, hard, smooth, rough and in colors, plain and mixed to satisfy that "just-what-you-want" feeling. Plenty of Grays and Blues.

Built to Save

Each Coat is built to save you the dissatisfaction of suffering with a poorly made, badly hanging, misshapen Coat. Therein are the real savings, and no matter what low prices mean elsewhere, here they mean a high standard of quality and satisfaction for months and months to come. BIG BILL HELPS CONGRESS SOLVE FLOOD PROBLEM

Capital Hearing Enlivened by His Cohorts.

A saloon orchestra accompanying the Thompson forces kept the rafters of the lobby of the Mayflower rattling with the echoes of the song "America, First, Last and Always." The same musicians accompanied the mayor to the capitol and regaled the crowds before and after the hearings. The accordion player, however, was roughly shut off by Washington police when he commenced to play, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" on the steps of the capitol where music is allowed only by permit.

House Hearing Opens.

The hearing was opened by Representative Reid (Rep., Ill.), chairman of the house committee, who said that he believed the problem of flood control would not be solved by following any single theory or form of defensive works. He thought that a comprehensive plan should probably include stronger levees, wider apart in places and standardized on the main river and its principal tributaries, spillways, outlets, by-passes and over-flow reservoirs.

Mayor Thompson did not attempt to go into any details of a flood control program. He said the members of the delegation had come down in person to impress congress with its real interest.

"Time after time I have sent a telegram to Washington to vote for some senate or house bill," said Mayor Thompson. "Usually I did not know what the bill was about but merely did it because some one asked me to. I didn't fool anybody by such action and no one was the wiser but the telegraph company. This time we are down here in person to impress upon you that congress has got to do something to solve the flood control problem."

Gov. Small's Plea.

Gov. Small presented data showing damages by the floods of the Illinois and Mississippi rivers in Illinois and urged that congress recognize that flood control was a national problem. "It is my deliberate conviction that the problem of flood control is a national problem," said Gov. Small.

"First, because the flood areas are too large, the flood damages too great, and the flood sources too remote for effective local or even state wide administration and control. No one state can successfully deal with this problem, even the protection of its own territory and people."

Calamity for One Injures All.

"In the second place, flood control by the federal government is not only justified by the extent of the territory affected but in my opinion this problem is a proper subject for governmental attention because of the established economic fact that any preventable calamity which injuriously affects the welfare of people of any considerable portion of the country can not fail to have a detrimental effect upon the rest of the country."

"Third, the Mississippi valley contains the most fertile soil and is perhaps the most productive area in the entire United States."

Legion's Views Presented.

Attorney General Carlstrom presented a resolution adopted by the

THOMPSON SCHEDULED TO DISCUSS WATER METERIZATION TODAY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—A conference on the water metering situation in Chicago, scheduled for this afternoon between Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, army chief of engineers, and Mayor Thompson, was postponed until tomorrow when the mayor was detained at the hearing before the house flood control committee.

While no announcement was authorized, it is understood that an effort is to be made to solve the situation caused by Mayor Thompson's attempt to substitute a program of water conservation for the government's metering program imposed under the war department permit of 1925. The report on this subject, formulated by Col. Edward Schulz, district engineer at Chicago, is expected in Washington this week.

American Legion convention at Paris declaring for recognition of a national obligation for handling the flood control problem. Mr. Carlstrom said that from a physical, geographical, and economic standpoint the national obligation was apparent.

Mrs. Jacob Baur said that the women of Chicago wanted congress at its coming session to pass legislation which would make it impossible for another flood disaster to occur.

Representative Swing (Rep., Cal.), one of the authors of the Johnson-Swing Boulder dam bill and a member of the flood control committee, was assured when he gave assurance that the friends of the Boulder dam project would not attempt to embarrass the supporters of the Mississippi flood control project by attaching their measure as a rider.

Hearings will be continued before the flood control committee tomorrow. Others in the Mississippi valley delegation will appear before the committee.

Most of the Chicagoans will depart for home tomorrow afternoon.

Deserted Wife Seeks $35,000 from Dry Agent

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—E. A. Williams, who is attached to the prohibition enforcement forces here, has been made defendant in a suit brought by his former wife, Mrs. Marie Williams, who is seeking a trust fund of $10,000 and $7,000 for the support of minor children, which, including interest, amounts to about $35,000. Williams' former wife, the petition sets forth, was abandoned by him in 1925.

HUNT BANDITS WHOSE DOGS RUN DOWN VICTIMS

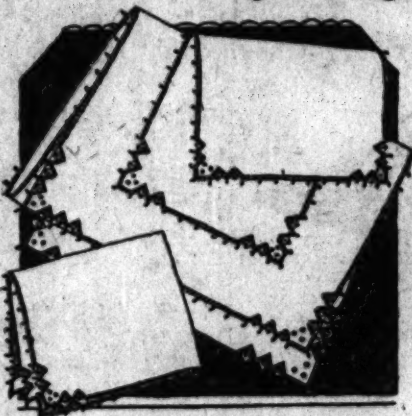

DAUBENBURG, Transylvania, Nov. 2.—[AP.]—A determined effort to run down a gang of dangerous bandits, who pursue their calling with the aid of a remarkably well trained pack of dogs, is on in the fastnesses of the Transylvania hills.

The robbers operate with trained police dogs, which do the spying, it is said, while the robbers are secreted in the forests. The dogs raise no alarm when they see police or soldiers, but when civilians appear the bandits dash forward, surround the wayfarers, show their teeth and bark. They are so trained, however, that they do not hurt victims unless they resist or try to escape.

The dogs have been known to hold up caravans with as many as ten coaches, halting the horses by jumping at their throats. Recent victims learned that it took a year to train the dogs, which never molest women or children.

The use of cheap fuel is often the most expensive

A cheap fuel is an inferior fuel. That's why it is cheap. Quick-burning, it requires a lot of stoking to keep your home at an even, healthful temperature. Cheap fuel is the most expensive in the end. You use more of it.

When you use Anthracite (Hard) Coal, you know it will burn quietly, safely and satisfactorily for hours. And but little of it compared with other fast-firing fuels which must be used lavishly when those blood-tingling, but home-penetrating winds sweep off the Lake.

STATE BLAMED FOR DECLINE IN BADGER SPORTS

Coach Also Indicts Students, Faculty for Apathy

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
MADISON, Wis., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The University of Wisconsin belongs absolutely where it stands—in the middle—and there is little indication that it will ever rise beyond that position. Dr. William E. Meanwell, for fifteen years basketball coach at Madison, asserted today in an indictment of the state, the students, and the faculty for their attitude toward athletics.

"That the state is primarily to blame for the university's mediocre standing in sports is the belief of Dr. Meanwell. He points to the richly old gymnasium, housing both the R. O. C. C. and departments of sport, erected in 1885 by the 'bounty of the state of Wisconsin.'"

"It is foul smelling and looks like a rat trap and if it ever caught fire it would be cremated without having a chance to escape," the coach said.

Zimmerman Vetoes Bill.
When the state last year had a chance to better athletic facilities by appropriating $300,000 to which the university had agreed to add equal amount for construction of a field house, Dr. Meanwell pointed out that Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman vetoed the bill.

"Zimmerman," Meanwell declared, "still has the notion that all the exercise a student needs is to saw wood, not realizing that there are no more wood piles."

Zimmerman indicated his attitude on athletics to THE TRIBUNE when he declared that there is an undue proportion in 50,000 spectators watching a football game in which only 22 players are engaged.

"They want us now to build a pool and freeze it for ice skating and hockey," the governor said. "If they want to skate," he added, "why don't they shovel snow from Lake Mendota?"

Lament Toward Students.
Theoretically, Meanwell commented, Zimmerman's idea of cleaning off the lake is sound, but actually the surface becomes corrugated and is subject to sudden riffs.

Dr. Meanwell is lenient towards the students in their aversion for physical training, explaining that there is no incentive to intra-mural sports with athletic facilities in their dilapidated state. But he does complain that the students and faculty have organized the university in such a way that 'athletics comes at the tail end of things.'

"The students have a thousand and one organizations and secret societies and membership in any one of them carries as much prestige as a letter in a sport. If a man comes out for a team and finds that he will have to work two or three years for a letter he promptly leaves to become twentieth assistant editor in one of the publications."

"With that spirit, Knute Rockne couldn't do anything here, and Rockne begins where others leave off," Meanwell declared. "Why, at Notre Dame a man will fight for four years on the chance that he might get in the game for five minutes in his fourth year."

The attractions of the co-ed and the beauty of the surroundings of the university, Dr. Meanwell declared, are two other "perfectly human" factors militating to success in athletics.

ST. BERNARD IN SPANISH WAR.
MADRID, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Twenty-one persons were injured tonight when the Galician express which left here at 7 p. m., was derailed between Rosal and Sarriena, about miles west of here.

DISARM OR WAR IS INEVITABLE —LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Premier Lloyd George today hammered away on the disarmament question, sharply challenging the government's foreign policy in an address before the Aldwych club. He answered a speech by Foreign Minister Chamberlain, who last week criticized the peace policy of Lloyd George before the same club.

The former premier declared that unless Europe advances beyond Lorraine toward arbitration and disarmament, "I say from long knowledge of conditions in Europe that war is inevitable."

The little Welsh liberal declared that as far as the League pact was concerned Secretary Chamberlain was "a fundamentalist," and insisted that this pact should be treated simply as one of a series of steps.

Urges Pact with U. S.
"And we must get along from it," asserted Mr. Lloyd George with an emphatic shake of his bushy head.

"Sir Austen has rested long enough on Lorraine. It is no use standing on the shores of Lake Maggiore like a stork looking preternaturally wise because you have swallowed one trout."

"Let him lift up his wings and proceed on his pilgrimage of peace. Foreign Minister Briand of France is now sending the dove of peace toward Washington in an endeavor to make a pact between two of the world's great republics, that there never shall be war between them. Let Secretary Chamberlain follow that fine example. If by casting a few stones at him today I stir him up and make him spread his pinions toward the sunlight, even if I have made no contribution to the peace of the world in the past, I shall have made some contribution for the future."

Denies Exciting False Hopes.
Mr. Lloyd George denied having excited false hopes as Sir Austen had charged. He said the allies had made it clear to Germany during the Versailles conference that their disarmament requirements of her were first steps toward a general reduction and he demanded, exciting a false hope, the hope that future disputes might be settled by peaceful arbitration based on right and justice?

"If it was," he exclaimed, "God help the world."

Lieut. Geo. Sterling Has Severe Throat Trouble
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Lieut. Gov. Fred Sterling, acting chief executive, suffered hemorrhages of the throat here today. He was confined to his bed at a hotel. His condition is not serious, attending physicians said.

INDIA ROWS OVER "PUSSYFOOT'S" NEAR ARRIVAL

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
ALLAHABAD, India, Nov. 7.—The Anglo-Indian newspaper Pioneer, representing government views, demands that the Indian government prevent the entry of "Pussyfoot" Johnson, because "he is a propagandist subsidized by an organization bitterly hostile to Great Britain, and which swamps the world with literature proving Englishmen to be confirmed drunkards, all wounded on sin." The Indian press resists the demand, saying "after Katherine Mayo's vilification of the Hindus it will be strange if the Pioneer's suggestion is adopted."

Spain Extends Tariff Favors to U. S. Trade

Falling Hair... Dandruff... are signs of Tri-Chor-Rhex-Is (Dry Rot)

TRI-CHOR-RHEX-IS (dry rot) is a condition that makes it difficult for healthy, lustrous hair to grow... Tri-Chor-Rhex-Is (dry rot) is the first step to poor, thin, dull hair and possibly serious scalp disorder. It comes from stunted roots... hair follicles clogged and choked from the use of greases, waxes, gums, quinos or flaxseed preparations used for dressing. Or in many cases where the heat of the curling iron or permanent waving has taken away the natural oils and "starved" the hair. Marcelle Brillantine replaces the necessary, life-giving oil! Clears off the scalp-coating that ruins your hair!

For smart grooming and beautiful hair, spray your hair, when you comb or dress it, with this pure, clear, clean, greaseless product that acts and holds the wave... that prevents Tri-Chor-Rhex-Is (dry rot) as well. For Marcelle Brillantine is more than just a greaseless brilliantine—and more than just a hair food. Use it. One week will show you how easily you can have healthy, beautiful hair!

Marcelle Brillantine comes to you in an original atomizer-top package. Refills can be purchased to use again and again with this atomizer-top, or pour the contents of a Marcelle bottle into your own atomizer.

NEW TRUE BILLS VOTED IN WAR ON RACKETEERS

Grand Jury Delves Into Labor Terrorism.

True bills were voted by the Newberry grand jury, impaneled yesterday, against three alleged racketeers, and another batch of indictments is looked for today as a result of the war being waged by Special Assistant State's Attorney Walter Walker against labor terrorists and extortionists.

Elihu Daly and Thomas Henry, alias Thomas Ryan, who compose the "Florida" Designers and Helpers union, with headquarters at 213 West Madison street, were charged with conspiracy to commit malicious mischief. They threatened florists who refused to join their organization, it is charged by Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller. Theodore Speropoulos, organizer for the Bootblacks' Protective association, is the man accused in the third true bill.

Judge Tells Jury to Act.

Chief Justice William V. Brothers gave the new jury instructions to investigate all bombing and window smashing and warned the jurors to act without fear or favor.

Daly and Henry were arrested last night by Lieut. Make Mills, and were held at the detective bureau. "I have been informed that the state's attorney's office is investigating bombings and violence in so-called labor organizations," the judge told the jurors. "Evidence will be submitted to you from time to time and I desire you men to give it your careful attention. Have no fear, gentlemen, and use your conscience and judgment in passing on the evidence submitted."

More Indictments Sought.

Evidence is to be presented to the jury today of the activities of the officials of the United Shoe Repairers' association and the Chicago Retail Food and Fruit Dealers' association. Investigations of several other organizations are being made by Assistant State's Attorney Joseph Nicolai, and as soon as they are complete Assistant State's Attorney Edwin Spiro will ask additional true bills.

WIFE SUES FOR DIVORCE FROM WM. J. CONNORS

William J. Connors, 43d ward Democratic politician, was sued for divorce in the Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Sadie Connors, 378 North Clark street. It is the third time in their seventeen years of married life that Mrs. Connors has taken her domestic troubles into court.

A decree is sought on the grounds of cruelty. The bill described the wife as having foreborn sixteen years of brutal treatment from her husband for the sake of her two children, and because she was of a forgiving nature, willing to accept her husband's promises of reformation and reluctant to drop her love for him. The children are Dorsey Elizabeth, 16, and Patrick Thomas Connors, 3 years old.

The complaint relates that Connors has been in a habit of drawing and aiming his revolver at his wife. The first specific act of cruelty alleged in the pleading is dated 1912 when he is charged with striking his wife in the face. Other major acts of cruelty of their earlier married life, according to the bill, include his knocking her down and breaking some of her ribs in 1915 and stabbing her in the arm with a butcher knife in 1918.

Bridge Builder Leaves

Estate of $24,359.572

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 7.—(U. P.)—The late Col. Washington A. Roebling, builder of the Brooklyn bridge, left an estate valued at $24,359,572, it was revealed in an inventory filed today by the Trenton Trust company.

UNIQUE DRIVE OPENED BY UNITED CHARITIES; ASK NO CASH QUOTA

An unusual campaign will be launched today by the United Charities of Chicago. In this drive the object will be to get the largest possible number of individual contributors rather than to raise a fixed sum. Last year there were 15,000 contributors. This year it is hoped to reach 20,000. In the campaign there will be no money quota, luncheons, report meetings, or other public demonstrations.

The campaign is to be conducted largely by mail, with personal calls to be made some time later by volunteer workers. No time limit has been set, the work continuing until the quota of 20,000 individuals has been reached. Yesterday 40,000 announcements were mailed to firms and individuals. "Only 15,000 people out of more than 4,000,000 contributed last year toward the support of the vital and necessary service the United Charities rendered to 100,000 needy people," Charles F. Glor, chairman of the finance committee of the organization, said yesterday. "We are seeking during the coming year to double our number of contributors. That is only 1 per cent of our 3,000,000 population, and that seems little enough for a city-wide organization like the United Charities to set as its goal."

"No other charitable organization in the city touches the lives of as many people in need, regardless of their race or religious affiliations."

CROWE DEMANDS POLICE EXPLAIN LEWIS CASE LEAK

Finds Defense Is Using Secret Statement.

there, sitting in chairs and being quiet. On a platform behind a table sat Lefty Lewis. The only other man on the platform was Mike Galvin, a labor leader.

"I went up to the table and turned in some money to Lewis. I was a collector of dues at that time. The dues at first were 75 cents a month, and then they were raised to $1 a month. Lewis opened the meeting and he was talking when a junkman near me who I didn't know got up. He asked: 'Who's the secretary and the treasurer of this union?' I'd like to know where all our money goes."

"Lewis got mad. 'It's none of your damned business,' he said. And then several of the junkmen began to talk. Lewis jerked a gun out and he shouted: 'Shut up or I'll kill you all!'"

"When the crowd saw the gun, they all got up at once and started for the doors, me with them. Then we saw the five men I had noticed before. They stood in front of the door and each of them had a gun in his hand. And they pushed us back."

"What happened then?" Katz was asked. "We were very quiet," replied the witness with unconscious humor. "We looked back and we went and sat down. The meeting kept on until 11 o'clock and there was no more trouble."

Continued to Pay Dues.

"Did you continue to pay your dues after this incident?" inquired Prosecutor Levy. "Yes, sir," said Katz, earnestly. "I paid them the very next day."

Katz was subjected to a long cross-examination which attempted to bring out that he was a personal enemy of Lewis. He denied this.

"I was a friend of his until I saw he was trying to make a fool out of us," he said. "And we all wanted to know where the money was going."

Names Lewis as Killer. Max Rosenkavitz, 60 years old, 1502 South Avers avenue, was the only other witness of the day. It was Rosenkavitz who was being throttled by Lewis when Braverman came to the rescue and was killed. He was the second witness to positively identify Lewis as the man who shot Braverman.

The witness, a gray haired man, who found difficulty in understanding the questions put to him, said he was an old friend of Braverman, the slain junk dealer.

"I arrived at the junk yard at Roosevelt road and Washenaw avenue shortly before 3 o'clock that day," he said. "I was in front, on the sidewalk, when Lewis came up to me."

"Where's your union button, you old —," he said. I told him I had no button and that I didn't want to belong to his union. He called me a lot of dirty names and grabbed me by the throat with his hands. Braverman came up and tried to pull me away."

"Lewis let go my throat with one hand and he pulled out a gun with the other. I ducked my head and I heard a shot. Then Lewis let go of me and ran away. I saw my friend, Braverman, lying on the sidewalk with blood coming from him."

Finds Intruders in Home.

The wife and five children of Rosenkavitz were thrown into a near panic last night when two strangers were found in the basement of their home. The men, who appeared to be tramps, fled when Rosenkavitz discovered them in the basement, which he entered to attend the furnace.

For more than a month the house had been under police guard, as the state's attorney's office feared an attempt might be made by friends of Lewis to bomb it. A week ago Rosenkavitz tired of having policemen in front of his home and asked that the guard be withdrawn.

AUTO EQUIPMENT SHOW IS OPENED FOR CONVENTION

Everything in automobile "extras," from radiator cap statuary to valve grinders, passed in review before 2,000 delegates yesterday when the annual trade exposition arranged by the Automotive Equipment association opened in the Coliseum.

More than 300 manufacturers of the equipment vital to the modern motor car are exhibiting this year while the association holds its twelfth annual convention in the Stevens hotel. To night and tomorrow night the association will entertain Chicago's automotive trade in a series of banquets and special showings. The exposition is not open to the public, but allows dealers and merchandisers a preview of the accessory and equipment trend for the year to come.

HEALTHY WEARINGS ARE OFFERED. Board of review yesterday opened the hearings of 100,000 complaints against real estate assessments, an increase of 15 per cent over last year. The deadline for filing complaints was yesterday, at the close of the hearings on personal property assessments.

BUDGET FIGURES CHILL CITY HOPES FOR BIG SURPLUS

Went in Vain for Cash to Add 3,000 Police.

Prospects for 3,000 additional policemen and 1,000 new firemen next year, as requested by Chief of Police Hughes and Fire Commissioner Gedrich, because more gloomy yesterday with the disclosure of the first 1928 budget figures at the city controller's office.

The controller's staff is now making a tentative draft of the appropriation bill, which goes to the council finance committee about Nov. 20. After re-examining the figures as it sees fit, the committee will send its revised draft to the council for final action shortly after Jan. 1.

Must Make Up Deficit.
"It is doubtful whether we will have enough money for half as many men as the two departments ask," said an attaché of the controller's office.
To start with, it looks as if there will be a $2,000,000 deficit in 1927.
After this is absorbed, even with the new revenue from quadriennial revaluations and the new corporate tax rate, the surplus will probably not exceed $1,000,000 or $2,000,000. The idea that there will be a big surplus is all wrong."

A surplus of about $3,000,000 would be needed to meet the requests of the fire and police departments. Chairman John S. Clark of the finance committee recently estimated that the demands of other departments will require $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 more, a total of $13,000,000 to $15,000,000.

Valuation Hope Reduced.
Despite predictions that the quadrennial revaluation will put $100,000, 000 more on the tax books this year,
the budget-makers, it was learned, are counting on only $500,000,000. This,
under the new corporate tax rate, would bring into the city treasury an estimated $3,075,000 in added revenue after subtracting a per cent for loss and cost of collection. From this would come the $2,000,000 deficit, leaving a $1,075,000 balance. Should the tax books show a valuation boost of more than $500,000,000, the balance would be increased by a ratio of about $1,000,000 for each $100,000,000 in added valuations.

In general, the controller's estimates bear out a forecast made by Ald. Clark several weeks ago that the fire and police departments will have to get along next year with one-third or one-half as many new men as they request, although administration advocates have announced that they will fight for the full number if the money can possibly be made available.

WELSH "COXEY'S ARMY" MARCHES ON LONDON TODAY

CARDIFF, Wales, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Welsh "Coxey's Army" of unemployed miners is ready to begin its march on London tomorrow when parliament opens.

A. J. Cook, secretary of the miners' association, will not be at the head of the army, although he organized the march. The federation of miners will lead Wednesday to give further vent to its feelings regarding the march, which it refuses to endorse. "Em-perors" Cook, as he frequently is called, said he will join the procession within a few days.

The marchers hope to attract the attention of the public and the government to conditions in the South Wales coal fields, and will carry a "petition in boots," as Gen. Coxey called it, which they hope to present to parliament.

Avoid Poorly Balanced Breakfasts

Start the day with Quaker Oats —food that "stands by" you.

If you feel tired, hungry, "fidgety," hours before lunch, don't jump to the conclusion of poor health.
Thousands have unenergetic mornings because they start the day with wrong breakfasts.

To feel right, you must have a well-balanced, complete breakfast.
At most other meals—lunch and dinner—you get it. But breakfast is a hurried meal, often badly balanced.

Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder, 10% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamins and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

Don't deny yourself the natural stimulation this rich food offers you.
Get Quaker Oats today. Grocers have two kinds: Quick Quaker, which cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes, and Older Oats.

INSULL AID'S GIFT TO ED JACKSON SIFTED BY JURY

Quiz Centers Upon Utility Affairs.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—The charge that Ed Jackson, when secretary of state and a candidate for governor, received $19,900 from a subordinate of Samuel Insull, Chicago utility magnate, that was never reported in Jackson's summary of 1924 campaign receipts, is being investigated by the county grand jury here.

When the charge was first made last fall it received a perfunctory investigation. However, the first grand jury disagreed four to two on returning indictments and the second, which was dismissed because of an attempt to bribe a juror, devoted most of its attention to Indianapolis city hall affairs.

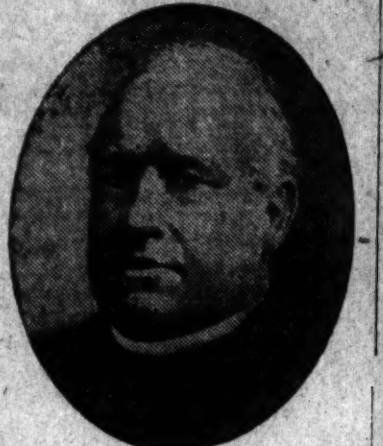

Call Eleven Witnesses.
Emphasizing that the corruption inquiry is entering its more interesting phases, the grand jury today summoned eleven new witnesses, all presumably to be questioned regarding affairs at the state house. The grand jury already has returned indictments against Gov. Jackson, County Republican Chairman George Coffin, Robert I. Marshall, Jackson's former law partner, former Mayor John Duvall, and the following members of Duvall's administration: William Buser, Duvall's brother-in-law and former city controller; Virgil Vandegriff, president of the board of works; John Collins, city purchasing agent, and Earl Garrett, market master. Alleged contracts between D. C. Stephenson, former Klan dragon, now in prison for life for the murder of a young woman, and other Indiana politicians have also been placed in the grand jury records.

James P. Goodrich, former governor, was the first to testify before the grand jury today. Clyde Walb, Republican state chairman, has been summoned, as have several Indianapolis newspaper men.

Rucker Made Charge.
The $19,900 charge, enunciated most frequently by Alvah Rucker, then Indiana corporation counsel, opposing merger of an independent power and light company with an Insull unit here, was that an agent representing Jackson and the Republican state committee approached an Insull executive and received $19,900; the understanding being that Jackson, as governor, would be receptive to utility favorites in naming the public service commission.

Help your body to fight the cold by throwing off disease germs. Father John's Medicine is pure wholesome nourishment with a successful record of seventy years. No alcohol or harmful drugs.

Rucker named Jackson, Stephenson, Samuel Insull, Martin Insull, Harley Clark, and others in a suit attempting to prevent the merger here.

Clark then filed a $250,000 damage suit against Rucker, but Rucker's de-murrer to this suit was sustained in federal circuit court, although Clark was permitted to file an amended complaint. The merger was completed and gave Insull further control of the Indiana utilities field.

Because one of the judges suggested as a special judge cannot sit in their case, arraignment of Jackson, Marshall and Coffin was postponed Monday.

GERMAN STOCKS DROP AFTER U. S. AGENT'S SPANKING

[Chicago Tribune From Service.]
BERLIN, Nov. 7.—Shares in Germany's second biggest combine, the steel trust, dropped below par and all stocks dropped from fourteen to forty-six points in a general flurry on the Berlin exchange after the American agent general for reparations, Seymour Parker Gilbert, sounded the tocsin of an impending crisis in his memorandum, published yesterday, while the government, as well as leading papers, warn of a general panic.

In Berlin the financial experts were untroubled by the crisis today, since they believed that this crash affected mostly the speculators, of whom the experts disapprove. The official party organ of the socialists said tonight that Mr. Gilbert branded the German reply to his memorandum as utterly unsatisfactory and that his objections to the German financial policy remain as strong as before. However, he does not intend to give a written reply, but will carry on oral negotiations.

When you find little pleasure in play; when work, however light, seems hard; when little things look big—something is wrong! It does not necessarily mean that you are ill. You may be just under par—an 80 per center!

What you need is greater vitality. This a health-builder long known to medical authorities will supply. Good cod-liver oil.

Physicians are today making greater use than ever before of cod-liver oil as a "builder-up." In addition, they are recommending it as a preventive of colds and other infections.

Scientists now know that the "building-up" elements in cod-liver oil are Vitamins A and D; that the effectiveness of cod-liver oil depends solely on its content of these health-protecting vitamins.

Because Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is tested and guaranteed to be exceptionally rich in Vitamins A and D, it is used exclusively by thousands of physicians. Unlike other cod-liver oils, it remains palatable and does not deteriorate with age.

Ask your physician about building up greater vitality and resistance by taking Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil daily. He knows that it is Vitamin-Tested and Vitamin-Protected. Be sure to insist on Squibb's—at all reliable drug stores.

ADD TWO MORE TO ROW OF GRAVES OF CALLES' FOES

Bury Gomez and Nephew Beside Serrano.

BY JOHN CORNYN.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 7.—Thousands of people in all walks of life today attended the funeral of Gen. Arnulfo Gomez, a candidate for president of Mexico, and his nephew, Francisco Gomez Viqueira, who were executed as rebels Saturday in the state of Vera Cruz. They were buried in the French cemetery. A row of fourteen graves, one containing the body of Gen. Francisco Serrano, another candidate for president, now stand as grim reminders of the price of revolt against President Calles.

The presidential office tonight furnished a message from Gen. Gonzalo Serrano stating that he had executed in the cemetery at Jalapa Gen. Fernando Reyes, a follower of Gen. Gomez, rebel for 26 years.

Gen. Silvano Garcia, who had defied successive governments and army commanders in the state of Vera Cruz since the time of Porfirio Diaz, two decades ago, was also executed.

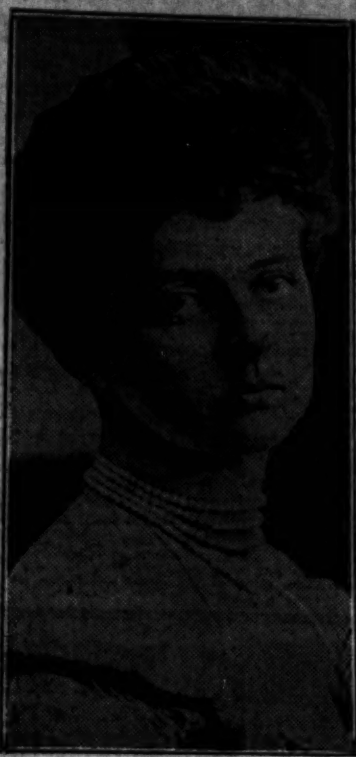

The government in announcing the death of Gen. Garcia laid emphasis on the fact that the presence of overwhelming numbers of troops in the state of Vera Cruz not only means the extermination of the revolution there but the clearing up of numerous rebel bands who have made the state unsafe for seventeen years.

Dr. Jimenez O'Farrell, a physician who accompanied Gen. Gomez in his revolutionary campaign, surrendered today to Gen. Escobar and was sent to Mexico City for trial. The pursuers of Gen. Alameda believe they have him surrounded.

Mexican Robbers Shoot Americans. NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Shot by robbers, Edward J. Anderson, an American business man of Mazatlan, today was reported near death at San Dimas, Durango, Mexico.

Dispatches received here said Anderson was attacked while crossing a small divide on the road between Guila-can and Flores, over which he was making a regular trip. He was robbed of several thousand pesos. The robbers fled to the small mining town of El Socorro, where, over their cups, they are reported to have revealed the shooting. Two of them were seized by the police, who forced them to point out the scene of the attack. Anderson was found conscious and identified two of the bandits as his assailants. Search is being made for the rest of the band.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—Princess Sophie Charlotte of Oldenburg, the divorced wife of Prince Eitel Friedrich, second son of the former kaiser, who is 43 years old, announces her betrothal to Police Major von Hiedemann.

Since her divorce Princess Sophie has been living with her father on his estate at Lensahn, near Oldenburg. There Maj. von Hiedemann was a frequent caller during her solitude. When they were young tradition forbade the then duchess to marry the simple nobleman. Today, with the princess well into middle age and the major 43 years old, they agreed to forget the traditions which marred their youth and marry, despite the opposition of relatives and scandal mongers.

Maj. von Hiedemann, a former guard of the ex-kaiser's crack Uhlan, now is with the mounted police of Dusseldorf.

Manufacturers Protest

Crawford Ave. Widening

A protest against the proposed widening of Crawford avenue was registered by the Northwest Manufacturers' club yesterday in a communication to Mayor Thompson and the city council. Demolition of the fronts of factories and the consequent rearrangement of machinery would cost more than the value of the improvement, it was stated.

APPRENTICESHIPS MAY BE SERVED IN NEW LANE SCHOOL

The support of trade unions whose representatives have repeatedly appeared before the board of education and asked for enlarged facilities for vocational training in the public schools may make possible in Chicago an entirely new departure in technical high school education, Assistant Superintendent William J. Bogan announced yesterday.

Within a short time, Mr. Bogan said, the board of education will reply to these requests from the unions asking them to adopt the new $2,000-

900 Lane Technical High school which is to be erected in 1928. The new school, he said, will be the finest and most perfectly equipped technical high school in the world.

Students As Apprentices

According to the board's plan, students in the school would enroll as apprentices in the various unions, thereby giving the latter an active voice in the direction of the school. Instead of possessing merely a diploma and an opportunity to look for a job the graduate would already be an integral part of his trade or profession when he completed the high school course.

Cooperation with the unions, Mr. Bogan explained, would enable the school to provide laboratory work of the most practical kind. Senior students would supplement their book learning and shop work with actual construction work under a contractor, who would be also a member of the faculty. As an experiment, it is planned to construct a complete house or other building, the students drawing the plans, erecting the building, and equipping it. The students would receive pay for their work.

Ask Help of Prof. Lee

School officials yesterday called into consultation Prof. Edwin A. Lee of the University of California school of education, who has experimented with a similar project in that state. "Chicago has an opportunity to lead the world in technical high school education," Prof. Lee said. "Here you already have the interest and support of skilled labor unions, as evidenced by their demand for enlarged trade extension schools. It should be easy to effect a direct tieup between the unions and the schools and settle for all time all questions of dispute between them."

NEGRO SCHOOL AT GARY IS HALTED BY INJUNCTION

Gary Negroes in the Circuit court at Valparaiso, Ind., were yesterday granted a temporary injunction restraining the city of Gary from erecting a $18,000 school exclusively for colored pupils. The order was issued when attorneys for the city agreed to it, and a hearing was set for Dec. 12. The case grew out of the recent strike of the white pupils of the Emerson High school at Gary, called because a group of Negroes had been sent to the school. It was settled when the city promised to withdraw the Negroes and appropriate $15,000 for the Negro school.

FIGURES THAT TALK

The Book of Knowledge Is Making More Than 2,000,000 Children Happy

DO YOU know why The Book of Knowledge is so conspicuously successful? Because it instructs and delights the children at the same time. By its winning style, its striking pictures, and, most of all, by its psychological arrangement, it captures the child's imagination and makes learning a delight. Step by step the children go through the 18 great departments: Wonder Questions, The Earth, Families, Things, Animal Life, Plant Life, Our Own Life, United States, All Countries, Men and Women, Stories, Poetry, Literature, Fine Arts, Things to Make and Do, etc.—the essential knowledge of the world.

Appeals to the Child's Heart

There are a number of unique features which no other informational work for the young, except The Book of Knowledge, possesses. Perhaps most important of these is the fact that it has a heart of vision. A way of looking at things? Yes, but what way? There's the rub. It came to a right way and a new way if the children are to benefit most. The Book of Knowledge was written with this always in mind.

When you want to see something you do not stand with your back to it, but facing it. The gaining of information is perhaps the saddest part of a true education. It is the practical use of that knowledge that counts. The Book of Knowledge teaches children how to look at things and understand them in the right way. You will be amazed at the moral effect of this work upon your child's mind as well as the amount of information which he will store up.

15,000 Pictures—Knowledge at a Glance

The eye is the first great teacher. There are, in The Book of Knowledge, 15,000 striking, educational pictures, brought together from every corner of the globe. Interestingly, vividly, at a glance they show the important facts of knowledge in a way that can never be forgotten.

RAINEY PROMISES TO BARE LOBBY OF ESTATE TAX FOES

Will Introduce Bill for Investigation.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—"Results of a congressional investigation into what he declared was a great lobby for the repeal of the federal estate tax were made today by Representative Henry T. Rainey [Dem., Ill.] during the hearings before the house ways and means committee. Mr. Rainey's attack came while the national council of state legislatures was meeting elsewhere in the city preparatory to an appearance before the committee tomorrow to urge that the federal government withdraw entirely from the field of inheritance taxation.

The council immediately took up Mr. Rainey's challenge. Its members prepared to offer to the committee tomorrow access to their books and records. The council contends that it is supported entirely by voluntary contributions and has nothing to conceal. The body which will appear before the committee consists of 150 delegates from forty states. Its members called on President Coolidge today.

Rainey Launches Attack.
Mr. Rainey launched his criticism as Gov. Fred W. Green of Michigan was appearing before the committee advocating the abolition of the automobile tax. Gov. Green expressed himself as deeply interested also in the elimination of the federal estate tax. "Do you know who is financing this great lobby for the repeal of the estate tax?" demanded Mr. Rainey. "I do not know anything about it," replied Gov. Green.

"Who paid your expenses to Washington?" Mr. Rainey asked. "I paid my own," the Michigan governor responded.

"Most Expensive Lobby."
"I am glad to hear it," Mr. Rainey said. "The reason I asked that question is that I am going to ask it of every witness who appears here on the estate tax question. This is the most expensive lobby I ever knew of. It ought to be investigated."

Later he declared that unless some of the majority members of the committee asked for the investigation he intended himself to introduce a resolution in the house to provide for an inquiry. Similar threats were made by members of the ways and means committee during the revision of the revenue act of 1926, but nothing came of it.

Discuss Automobile Tax.
Repeal of the 3 per cent automobile tax was the chief subject before the committee today. Representatives of the American Automobile association, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the National Automobile Dealers' association, and kindred organizations pleaded for the removal of the tax both in the interest of the industry and the motorist.

Need for lessening the burden on the automobile is seen by Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile association, because of the total motor vehicle taxes paid in this country during 1926, which amounted to $712,372,350. Of this total $15,000,000 represented municipal taxes; $36,386,747, federal excise taxes; $125,000,000 personal property taxes; $187,663,231, gasoline taxes, and $388,282,323 registration fees and drivers' licenses.

Ask Exchange Stamp Relief.
Relief from the bothersome burden of the stamp tax on transactions on produce exchanges was asked by representatives of the Chicago Board of Trade and the grain exchanges of the country. The tax is 1 cent on each $100 of the value of the transactions. L. F. Gaines of Chicago, representing the grain exchange committee, said that the tax produced no revenue to speak of but untold trouble. It even affected business, he declared, as some people would not trade under the present regulations. He described it as a nuisance tax pure and simple. The stamp tax on hedges, he pointed out to the committee, is paid by the dealer and comes out of the price received by the producer. While the American grain market is in direct competition with Liverpool and other foreign markets there is no such tax abroad and the whole tendency is to keep buyers out of the American market.

Regarded as Punitive Tax.
The total tax collected during the fiscal year, Mr. Gaines told the committee, was $2,884,000, of which $1,750,000 was on grain sales, $1,000,000 on cotton, and the rest scattered over other commodities. If the tax is continued in the law, he argued, the grain exchanges must conclude that it is a punitive tax rather than a revenue tax.

IDENTIFIED IN SHOOTING.
Chief of Police Andrew Barkworth of Calumet Park was described yesterday by several government witnesses in the liquor case against him and twenty-one others as the man who shot and wounded Stanley Dube when he attempted to take a can of alcohol for evidence to federal authorities.

EMMERSON LAYS AUTO LICENSE DELAY TO SMALL

Although Louis L. Emerson, secretary of state, has not yet announced himself as a candidate for governor, he has seen fit to make a little political hay in advance. It was said yesterday when letters were received by thousands of motorists in the state explaining why their license plates would be delayed this year.

"Owing to the fact that the usual appropriation for extra help in the automobile department was vetoed by Gov. Small," stated Mr. Emerson's letter, "it will be difficult to mail license plates to automobile owners during 1927 as promptly as in former years. For that reason, I am sending you application blank. Please fill out and return at an early date."

The governor's veto, the letter stated, has severely handicapped the department, which Mr. Emerson said collected $15,000,000 a year, turning it over to the good roads fund.

Mr. Emerson is expected to announce his candidacy for the governorship next Thursday at a roundup.

MARINES GUARD NICARAGUA POLLS NO DISTURBANCES

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Nov. 2.—(AP.)—United States marines and National Guard patrols kept watch over the municipal elections throughout Nicaragua yesterday. Col. Louis M. Guilek, commander of the 5th brigade, U. S. Marine corps, said today that no disturbances were reported by the patrols, law and order prevailing throughout.

It will be several days before final results are announced, but the figures in some of the towns are interesting. In Managua the liberals scored heavily over the conservatives. On the recorded vote up to this afternoon the liberals had 3,358, and the conservatives 1,616. In Granada the vote stood conservatives, 1,926; Liberals, 854. At Leon, a liberal stronghold, the liberal vote was 2,600 and the conservative vote five. The conservatives are ahead by a few votes at Masaya, but at Matagalpa the liberals were four to one in the majority.

PRAIRIE DIVISION MEN TO HONOR CHIEF'S MEMORY

A reunion of the 33d division, originally scheduled for one day only, has been extended to cover a two day program, Nov. 19-20, it was announced last night. The extra day was added, it was said, so sufficient time might be found to honor the memory of the war-time leader of the division, the late Maj. Gen. George Bell Jr.

Veterans attending the reunion will gather at Rosehill cemetery on the afternoon of the second day and there pass in review before his last resting place. Flying the same colors carried to France, the men will march past the grave of the man who organized the division, trained it, and directed it in battle.

"The officers and men of his old command feel that in adopting this form of tribute they are emphasizing the soldierly quality loved best by their general—loyalty," it was asserted. "They consider this review a means of expressing their loyalty to the memory of one of America's great soldiers."

OUTLINES POLICY FOR IMMIGRATION BARS IN CANADA

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 2.—(AP.)—The principle that preference be given to British, American, northwest European, and selected immigrants from other sections was laid down today by Robert Forke, Canadian minister of immigration, in outlining the Dominion's immigration policy at the conference of provincial premiers. He said arrangements were being made for a highly efficient staff "to deal in a businesslike manner with the return of Canadians from the New England states."

An agreement was reached to make immigration the subject of a "heart to heart conference" Thursday. Several western delegates held that immigration should be absolutely under the control of the federal and provincial authorities. The activities of outside organizations, religious and otherwise, should, in their opinion, be carefully supervised.

Must You Hunch Up under a glaring fixture or weak portable lamp to read?

PICTURED above is a lesson of tremendous importance. It has to do with the eyesight, health, comfort and happiness of millions. It affects no one class or condition in life. The contrast shown between RIGHT LIGHT and WRONG LIGHT is no imaginary creation of the artist. It reveals actual conditions in countless homes. It compels a direct answer to the vital question—

Are Your Fixtures Right?

Do they give proper and adequate light? Are your lamps shaded? Are they invisible from ordinary angles of view? Do your fixtures provide adequate, comfortable and esthetic illumination without injurious glare or shadows? Are they lamped with bulbs of the wattage required by the Franklin Approval Fixture Tag?

Make the Franklin Tag Your Buying Guide

Do you realize that your fixtures are not giving the right light? You may not have had the experience qualifying you to install the fixture that will supply proper light. The Electric Association was prompted by these thoughts to give much study and experiment in developing and perfecting fixtures to meet these vital needs. Today, through this scientific investigation all may enjoy the priceless benefits of right light. The Franklin Approval Fixture Tag is your dependable buying guide.

Is Your Lighting Ghastly White?

Is it raw and harsh? Does it cheapen your home, streak faces and furniture with shadows, and intensify every slight defect in the room?

If so, learn what a soft, beautiful and colorful thing a REAL fixture can be—as pretty and as beautifully colored as a portrait, but lighting the whole room. With such fixtures one or two members of the family cannot monopolize all the light. All can enjoy themselves. Keep your children at home.

YOU CAN REPLACE YOUR LIGHTING FIXTURES, BUT NOT YOUR EYES.

Re-fixture NOW! Look for the Franklin Approval Fixture Tag

Consult your electrical contractor, fixture dealer or lighting company. They have agreed to furnish Franklin Approved Fixtures to the Chicago public. The plan includes time payments and an allowance on your present fixtures. If you rent, it provides for the careful storing of your present fixtures and rehanging on expiration of lease if this occurs within one year.

MITCHELL DEATHS LAID TO ATTEMPT TO SAVE CROWD

Chauffeur Is Exonerated
by Coroner's Jury.

An effort by Karl M. Bradley, their chauffeur, to prevent a crash in which several persons probably would have been injured brought on the accident in which John J. Mitchell, dean of Chicago bankers, and Mrs. Mitchell were killed, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury at Libertyville yesterday.

"We further find," the verdict added, "that Bradley did all in his power to prevent the accident, and that he is entirely free from blame." Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell were on the way to the funeral of their daughter's father-in-law, Edward J. Hunter, when they were killed.

Bradley was the principal witness at the inquest. He testified that he was driving at a speed of 30 to 35 miles an hour through a dense fog when he topped a rise in the road and saw a blockade immediately in front of him. Two automobiles had been stopped and the drivers were quarreling.

"I looked like there was a big crowd of people coming up," the chauffeur said. "There were lines of cars on both sides of the road. People were running all around. I threw on the brakes and tried to stop."

"The road was wet and I couldn't stop on the slippery concrete. I tried to get the back wheels on the gravel at the edge of the road to make the brakes hold. I was unable to. Suddenly we tipped over."

"I can't understand exactly how it happened. The next thing I remember is that Mrs. Mitchell was lying on the ground and that I helped to lift the car off her. If I had gone straight ahead I would undoubtedly have struck some one. I was about half way down from the top of the hill when I saw the people and knew I couldn't stop in time."

"Mitchell's Were Brave." He added that the Mitchells died bravely. Neither, he said, cried out even after it was apparent there would be a crash.

There were five other witnesses who corroborated Bradley. No members of the Mitchell family attended. Coroner J. L. Taylor of Lake county presided. Charles W. Halsey, an employee of

REMUS TELLS COURT HE WAS INSANE WHEN HE KILLED HIS WIFE

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 1.—(P)—George Remus stated in court today that he will not plead that he is insane at the present time but that he was insane at the time he killed his wife, Mrs. Eugene Holmes Remus, in Eden park here.

The status of the Remus defense arose today when Judge Shook granted Remus' petition to make known to the three court alienists appointed to examine Remus, the city chemist's report on the contents of a box of candy recently received by him and which he believes was poisoned. The chemist has made no report on his analysis.

Attorney Charles E. Blanton said in court that Remus believed the wedding of the alleged poisoned candy was part of a conspiracy of long standing, to continually harass him, and which resulted in his mental condition at the time of the shooting.

The Freedman Fidelity Appraisal company of Milwaukee, dropped dead of heart disease yesterday while appraising the effects in the Mitchell home at 1510 North State parkway.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medicinal discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

MILLCENT WED TO ARGENTINIAN IN HASTY RITES

New York, Nov. 1.—(Special)—Mrs. Millicent Rogers, daughter of Col. Henry H. Rogers, who recently divorced Count Ludwig Salm von Hoerstraten, was married today at Southampton to Arturo Peralta Ramos, an Argentinian. Their engagement was announced by Col. and Mrs. Rogers on Aug. 6.

The bride, it is reported, will receive $500,000 as a wedding gift from her father.

The wedding was performed by the Rev. Joseph Kelly in the parish house of the Roman Catholic church of the Sacred Hearts of Jesus and Mary. Mr. Ramos is a Catholic and a dispensation was necessary before he could be united to the holder of a divorce decree.

Set for Wednesday.

The marriage was scheduled for Wednesday, but was advanced, owing to the serious illness of the bride's grandfather, George Hilliard Beaulieu. The witnesses to the ceremony were Col. Rogers and Robert Coe Jr. of Oyster Bay. Those at the ceremony included the parents of the bride, her 3 year old son, Peter Salm, and a few friends.

Immediately after the wedding, the party went to the Rogers home on the outskirts of Southampton, where Mr. and Mrs. Ramos will remain until Thursday, when they sail for Buenos Aires, where, for the first time, the bride will meet the members of the Ramos family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramos will make their home in New York upon their return from the South American honeymoon, and Ramos will become associated with Benard Brothers, stock brokers.

Booking Changed.

Several weeks ago it was reported that the couple had been secretly married. This was based, apparently, on the fact that their steamship bookings for South America had been changed.

from "Mrs. Millicent Rogers" to "Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Ramos." Col. Rogers added his own to his daughter's denial, and several days ago it leaked out that the ceremony would take place Wednesday.

Announcement of today's ceremony was made by Col. Rogers shortly after it had been performed. It was said tonight that the condition of Mr. Beaulieu was critical and fears were expressed that he might not live through the night. Mr. Benjamin, industrial engineer and patent expert, is 74 years old.

A Real "Son of Luck."

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 1.—Arturo Peralta Ramos, who was married to Millicent Rogers today at Southampton, L. I., today, is one of seven sons of a comparatively poor branch of an Argentine family of the upper class socially, whose patrimony, even if unincumbered, is most meager.

Five or six years ago Señor Ramos, who was then finding difficulty keeping up appearances with the youths of his own circle, acquired the reputation of being the luckiest man in Buenos Aires when he won two lotteries and then won a considerable sum at the gaming tables of the Mar de la Plata and at Montevideo, eventually departing for Paris with a capital of approximately $100,000 to $200,000.

The announcement that he had married a wealthy American was received by friends as simply another illustration of his extraordinary good luck. Señor Ramos is generally well spoken of. His distaste for work of any description is diminished as the amiable weakness of a good fellow.

Electric Motors are like hats

A HAT is a combination of consequential design—a bit of straw, a felt, a few inches of ribbon, an ornament. But a clever hat may be made of these materials by the designer who gets just the right line to the brim here, the right dent in the crown there, the ornament at the right angle. His skill in balancing materials is what counts.

Building motors is like designing hats in that electrical and mechanical qualities must be balanced. You can vary the proportions any way you wish, and get a different result. There is no right combination for every job. Finding it is a matter of skill, equipment, sources, and experience of the motor manufacturer.

Vestinghouse has all the—especially experience. The life and service which you get from a motor depend on the skill and understanding with which these things are put together. Vestinghouse has been building them for years.

TWO HURT AS 'L' TRAINS CRASH; DELAY CROWDS

Loop Accident Happens During Morning Rush.

A man and a woman were injured seriously, 800 other persons were shaken, and loop elevated traffic was delayed for nearly an hour during the peak traffic yesterday morning. A north bound 61st street train crashed into the rear of a Wilson avenue express on the "L" structure on Wabash avenue, between Moore and Madison streets.

Joseph Guilfoyle, 2287 Sheffield avenue, metorman of the 61st street express, was the most seriously injured. Physicians at Alexian Brothers' hospital, however, said he would recover. Mrs. Ruth Elms, 5404 Winthrop avenue, was carried away on a stretcher and given treatment at the Iroquois hospital.

Blame Injured Motorman.

Guilfoyle was blamed for the crash by officials of the Chicago Rapid Transit company after an investigation. "The brakes of the 61st street train were in good working order," it was declared by H. A. Johnson, train manager of the elevated line. Guilfoyle, apparently, as he came up behind the Wilson avenue train, miscalculated the distance. He failed to apply his brakes quickly enough.

Hurt on Way to Wreck.

Four detective sergeants were injured when their squad car collided with another automobile as they sped to the wreck. The four, Andrew Barry, squad leader; Ray Land, James Sullivan, and Patrick McInerney, were thrown to the ground when their car crashed into a parked automobile at State street and Archer avenue.

Fred Radde, 2330 North Kostner avenue, a truck driver, was held on a charge of reckless driving when the detectives declared he violated a light signal and the police car was forced to the curb to avoid striking his truck. Both the elevated trains were packed with loop workers, many of them young women and girls. Many women fainted. Extra police details were called to disperse a large crowd which gathered beneath the elevated structure in Wabash avenue.

Find Wreck of Navy Plane Sent to Save Army Officers

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) BALBOA, Canal Zone, Nov. 7.—It is reported that a naval seaplane from Coco Solo has been found at the mouth of the Bayano river, forty miles from Balboa. The plane was dispatched with another on Oct. 17 to rescue a party of army officers on a fishing trip in the Pearl Islands. The plane was wrecked, nearly drowning Lieut. Jackson R. Tate.

NOT GUILTY PLEA IS ENTERED BY HARRY D. HILL

Harry D. Hill, 22 years old, pleaded not guilty yesterday in the Circuit court at Ottawa to a charge that he murdered his mother, Mrs. Eliza Hill, in her home at Streator, Ill.

Handcuffed, pale and hollow of eye, young Hill was taken before Judge Edgar Eldredge on short notice. Sheriff Floyd Clark was notified to take him from his cell only ten minutes before the hearing began. Dr. H. C. Hill, Streator specialist, father of the accused youth, accompanied him to and from the court.

No testimony was presented at the hearing. Attorneys for Hill requested the state to furnish a list of witnesses, but declined to indicate what the defense would be. It is expected that the trial will begin in January. Hill is also under indictment for passing worthless checks and forgeries on his mother's account, but no pleas were made to these charges.

The body of Mrs. Hill, a wealthy recluse, was found buried in the basement of her home last August. A hired man told the police that her son had paid him to clean up the basement, but had warned him not to dislodge the bricks over the spot where the grave had been made. Hill, who died before the killing was discovered, was captured in Seattle, Wash.

MAGRUDER OUT OF NAVY JOB BY WILBUR ORDER

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—Rear Admiral Thomas F. Magruder, whose criticism of the naval administration as "wasteful and extravagant" resulted in his removal as commander of the Philadelphia navy yard, was today placed on "general waiting orders" by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur.

As a result the admiral is without a "job" and must so remain until Secretary Wilbur is prepared to give him a permanent assignment.

Announcement of his disposition of the Magruder case was made by Secretary Wilbur shortly after the admiral had reported to the department in compliance with the orders relieving him of his command. Secretary Wilbur refused to amplify his action except to say that Admiral Magruder is free to go and come as he pleases pending assignment.

Beyond admitting that he had been placed on waiting orders Admiral Magruder had nothing to say when he emerged from his conference with the secretary. The only clue to his intentions came when he asked Secretary Wilbur if he would be allowed the use of the naval library. The request was granted and the admiral intends to utilize part of his spare time in preparing material for his forthcoming appearance before the house military affairs committee.

Secretary Wilbur referred to his action today as a routine order and refused to comment on his controversy with the admiral over a magazine article. When pressed for an explanation the secretary referred questions to Rear Admiral Richard H. Leigh, chief of the bureau of navigation.

Admiral Leigh in turn declined to make known the reasons behind the secretary's action in placing Admiral Magruder on waiting orders. He said, however, that the admiral would be free to use his time as he wished.

Admiral Leigh said that Admiral Magruder will continue to draw his full pay of $4,000 in salary and $1,700 in allowances annually.

THIEVES of POWER

How This Remarkable
Lubricant Whips Them

TODAY a new lubricant allows gears to operate as easily at 25° below zero as at 210° above.

Winter troubles from hard-shifting, power-eating transmission and heated gears when grease hardens and "channels" are ended, now. Graigrene puts a stop to these difficulties forever.

It makes cold weather driving as pleasant as a summer tour. It cuts repair costs to the bone. Thousands today drive in cars lubricated this scientific way.

Graigrene differs remarkably from common gear compounds. It offers four definite improvements:

1. Operates practically the same at 25° below and at 210° above zero—hence never channels in cold or loses its viscosity in hot weather.
2. Increases power and maintains silence by eliminating all asphaltum from its content. The necessity for this tar in grease is avoided by the Graigrene Formula, using vegetable oils. These are recognized as the finest lubricants.
3. Increases gas mileage, by actual test, 5.5% over the best black greases.
4. Reduces repair bills. Never breaks down or leaves gears ungreased. Provides ideal film of protection in any weather.

Insure these benefits for your car by installing Graigrene grease in transmission and differential. At any good service station experts are ready to remove the old, worn-out greases and put in Graigrene. Ask for Graigrene by name.

You can tell the genuine by its clean, gray-green color.

SPOOR'S ESTATE $1,400,000, SAYS OFFICIAL LIST

Inventory Shows Many Activities.

Personal property valued at $1,250,000 and $150,000 worth of real estate are listed in an inventory of the estate left by John A. Spoor, a Chicago business leader, filed yesterday before Assistant Probate Judge Leon Edelman.

Outstanding in the inventory, because described as a "desperate" asset, is a note for $100 signed in 1915 by former Senator William Lorimer and made payable in 1916.

Bull Goes to Family.
Mr. Spoor, who died Oct. 15, 1926, at 74, left his fortune to his widow, Mrs. Frances Spoor, and daughter, Mrs. Cary Spoor Broome, 1224 North State parkway, with the exception of $40,000 bequeathed to charity. He was chairman of the board of directors of the Union Stockyards and Transit company and was active in at least a dozen other enterprises. He was a member of many organizations in Chicago, New York and London.

The inventory includes, among other securities, the following:

30 Bankers and Shippers Insurance Co., New York, par $100.
10 Chicago Grand Opera company, par $100.
15 Chicago Junction Railway and Union Stockyards, preferred, par $100.
225 Chicago Mercantile corporation, capital stock, par value $100.
700 Docks Brothers, Inc., of Maryland, no par.
75 First National Bank of Chicago, par $100.
100 Guarantee Trust of New York, par $100.
800 Illinois Brick, par $25.
100 May Department stores, New York, par $50.
2,400 Montgomery Ward.
50 National Surety company, New York, par $100.
600 Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, par $100.
700 Pullman company, par $100.
451 Sinclair Consolidated Oil, no par.
40 Stockyards National Bank, par $100.
270 United States Cold Storage corporation, preferred, par $7.

BONDS.
20 Maryland county, Aris., $20,000.
5 Detroit Improvement, $5,000.
207 First Trust Joint Stock Land Bank of Chicago, $297,000.
20 Opera House Building corporation, $2,100.
20 Sanitary District of Chicago bonds, $20,000.
10 State of Minnesota, $10,000.
20 Los Angeles, $25,000.

Many Stocks Above Par.
On the basis of last week's stock market close many stocks in the inventory are above par. Peoples Gas closed at 144 1/2; Illinois Brick, 46; May Department Stores, 87, while of the no par stocks Sinclair was 18 and Dodge 14 1/2. Stock of the First National Bank is held at 805 and Stockyards National at 282.

Montgomery Ward stock is around 89. An extensive collection of rare books with fine bindings also are listed in the inventory. The books were bequeathed to the widow.

Jail Parents for Neglecting Children to Drink Liquor

Anthony Witkowski, 45, and his wife, Anna, 47, of 2031 Pittner court, were yesterday sentenced to the House of Correction for thirty days when their son, Leo, 15 years old, testified they neglected him and his two younger brothers, leaving them to roam while the father and mother drank moonshine. Witkowski and his wife were arrested when neighbors complained to the police of their treatment of the children.

ON BLUE NILE

The British and Egyptian governments are all stirred up because the White Engineering corporation of New York is reported to have obtained a concession to dam the head waters of the Blue Nile in Lake Tana from Abyssinia. The dam would control irrigation waters for the Sudan and Egypt. It has been under discussion for 20 years. A representative of Abyssinia said his country had received a proposition from the American concern, but if the British, who wanted the dam, objected, the deal would be dropped.

ESSER WAIVES HEARING AS BOND IS SET AT $50,000

John L. Esser, recent president of the Aurora Trust and Savings bank, who confessed to looting the institution of over $350,000, was arraigned yesterday on a charge of larceny before Justice W. S. Peck of Aurora, in the county building at Geneva.

He had been in the jail adjoining the county building for a month. He was pale and nervous when brought into court, but was immaculately dressed, as usual. He waived examination and was held to the Kane county grand jury, which meets this month.

Bail was fixed at $50,000. Esser said that he did not know any one who would go his bail and that he did not want to get out.

The Aurora Trust and Savings bank closed after the extent of Esser's defalcation was discovered. Its business has been taken over by the Broadway Trust and Savings bank.

PARLIAMENT WILL PROBE YANK HAND IN BLUE NILE DAM

BY JOHN STEELE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The proposed American project to build a dam at the head waters of the Blue Nile in Lake Tana, which postponed the departure from London of the Egyptian premier, will come up in the house of commons at question time soon after parliament reassembles tomorrow.

It is understood that the British position was decided upon at an unusually hasty meeting of several cabinet ministers yesterday, followed by further conferences with the Egyptian premier today. It is reported that the British do not want to contemplate a position in which Egypt and the Sudan will think they have to pay an American company for a water supply. Meanwhile, nothing has been settled about the prospect, according to Dr. W. C. Martin, the Abyssinian envoy extraordinary, who arrived in London from New York today.

"We want to meet the wishes of the British government and the position is this: The British want to control the waters of the Blue Nile by damming the sources," he said. "At the request of the Abyssinian government I went to America to find efficient engineers, which I have found, but cannot proceed without British consent. The White Engineering corporation has made proposals which will be submitted to the Abyssinian government, but there is no contract."

"We are not building a dam for the Abyssinian government's purposes, but at the request of the British, who want it for the Sudan. If the British do not want it now, there the matter ends."

OWNERSHIP

THE first prehistoric man to become a manufacturer owned his own tools—rough instruments of flint made with his own hands.

As industry developed and crude tools gave way to more costly and more complex machinery, men separated themselves into groups—owners of tools and users of tools. Out of this separation grew industrial problems, and in their solution, the trend has been toward a wider ownership of the tools of industry by those who use them.

Industry's most useful tool in America, the telephone, is owned by the public. Bell System securities are distributed among 800,000 investors. The stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company is held by more than 420,000 owners, and no individual owns as much as 1%. In this nationwide ownership of nationwide facilities, the tool owner and tool user are identical.

There's a man at Thompson's who knows Meats —who takes as much pride in the meat he buys for the Thompson Restaurants as you take in the latest model of your favorite car.

Twenty-seven years ago it was Andy Bolheimer's privilege to sell Mr. John R. Thompson the daily supply of meat for his five restaurants. Every morning the finest meat in the house was lined up for this customer's inspection. After two years of these daily transactions Andy knew as well as his patron what cuts would measure up to the high standard of Thompson's.

Andy was asked to join the Thompson organization and do the buying himself. And he has been at it ever since. In his own words, "If the folks in this town knew the kind of meat we buy for them, our 50 Chicago restaurants wouldn't be able to take care of the crowds."

"As it is, just for beef stews alone we buy 1200 pounds of the best fresh sirloin in Chicago every morning, another 1500 pounds for hamburger. Every week we use almost 2000 whole hams. And they're as fine a ham as there is cured—nothing else is good enough for Thompson's."

When asked what he thought the most important thing in his job Andy unhesitatingly stated, "Honesty. Honesty in dealings with all, requiring only the best, never under any circumstances being satisfied with less."

It is such "honesty" as Andy's that has made possible 118 restaurants in the Thompson organization—honesty of purpose always to provide only the purest food procurable, to prepare it appetizingly, to serve it courteously without delay.

We invite you to try some of Andy's meat. You'll have first hand evidence that he has a right to take pride in his selections.

KENTUCKY VOTES ON HORSE RACING TODAY

STAGG GROOMS
GREENEBAUM TO REPLACE ROUSECaptain May Be Lost
for Illini Battle.

While Capt. Ken Rouse submitted himself to the strengthening influences of Trainer Bentzen's electrical machines, Coach Stagg yesterday sent his Maroons through the first of their practice sessions for the battle with Illinois at Urbana.

It is doubtful if Rouse would be ready to meet the Illini Saturday. Stagg worked out the team at the University of Illinois, with Ben Greenebaum, convalescent guard, passing the ball from center. Greenebaum was his numerical at the first position as a freshman but has not done much work at that position since then. The husky forward was kept out of the Michigan game by injuries received at Ohio State, but indications are that he will be able to play this week-end.

Aside from Rouse and Greenebaum the center reserves are weak, and Stagg expects to spend a lot of time with his two other hopes, Ken Small, who substituted for Rouse against Michigan, and Carl Lippe. Small weighs only 160 pounds, but makes up for the deficiency of avoirdupois with fight, while Lippe, a 195 pounder, is not as aggressive.

Bloom Lost for Season.
Rudy Leysers, the Maroon full back who split the Michigan line wide open in the first half, recovered completely from the cramps in both legs which forced him off the field. He worked out with the rest of the varsity squad, learning a new set of the plays, doled out by Coach Stagg for the benefit of the Illini.

Harold "Inky" Bloom, the former center back who was shifted to half for Michigan, and who was hurt in the field with a sprained shoulder and ankle, is out for the season. This leaves the Maroons short in the quarter department, especially since John McDonough, the regular, was badly bruised by Michigan. Anderson, Mendenhall and Rayson, the three injured half backs, were in good shape yesterday. The latter two were kept out of the Michigan game because of injuries suffered at the hands of Ohio but will be ready for duty Saturday.

NORTHWESTERN DEFIANT

Northwestern homecomers who plan to gather at Dyche stadium Saturday afternoon at least can look forward to seeing a desperate pack of Wildcats in the encounter against Indiana.

Three shearings in a row, it is alleged in Evanston, about any self-respecting Wildcat can tolerate an embezzling season. And the Purple Wildcats submitted to the third successive devastating operation at Purdue Saturday. Hence the approach of depression.

The one solace in the situation, from the Northwestern viewpoint, is found in the fact that the Hoosier opponents have been similarly afflicted during the rough going of 1927, only more so. Northwestern has a victory over Ohio which it can point to with pride, while Pat Page's boys, in so far as the Big Ten standing is concerned, must do all their pointing to a 14 to 14 tie with Minnesota.

Hanley Plans Shakeup.

Michigan, until recently a second string center, will form the nucleus of Hanley's rebuilding process. Johnson and Fisher will take care of the ends, although the latter may not be able to stand the graft of an entire game. Tom Terrell showed additional ability last night and may be used Saturday.

Rudy Schuler still holds down his tackle position, but with Sinkler as well as Karsten now on the casualty list, the Purple is in a bad way for another tackle. Rudy's brother, Al, is improving, as are Cemo Neimi and Al Hoesli, and these three may divide the duties Saturday. The guard situation is not rosy, with Justin Dart out until the Iowa game at least.

The back field will see considerable reinforcement, too. It was evident last night, with both Lewis and Holmer incapacitated, the kicking department will be considerably weakened.

of the NEWS

LETTING 'EM GO TO IT.
(Every fall The Wake receives a heavy supply of super-heated communications in behalf of dear old Alvin Kater. As a sample of the scores, we are giving over The Wake today to some of the less rabid.)

DEAR WAKE: Why all the chortling at Illinois on its three conference victories. The Illini beat Northwestern with Lewis out half the game because the Purple failed to kick goal after touchdown. They beat Michigan, with Gilbert out, on a fumbled punt and blocked kick. They beat Iowa, 14 to 9, while Minnesota downed the Hawkeyes, 38 to 9. The Illini are a good team, not super-great by any means. I congratulate Illinois on its good judgment in refusing to meet Minnesota again after the Gophers drubbed them 39 to 7 in 1924 while Red Grange was a member of their scoring machine.

Now Everybody Hollar.
Dear Harry: This is the open season for grid predictions. May I jump the gun a bit and call the balance of the schedule as follows:

Michigan... W.L.T.
Northwestern... 2 1 1
Minnesota... 3 2 0
Wisconsin... 3 2 0
Iowa... 3 2 0
Illinois... 3 2 0
Ohio State... 3 2 0
And at that the Gophers are by far the best team in the conference.

Shock Troops.

Dear Wake: "C. L. B." says using a second team to tire out the opposition is unorthodox. He evidently refers to Notre Dame. However, Notre Dame, Coe, and May 4 points by allowing the second team to play most of the first half. Just where the poor sportsmanship is in that I can't see. The helper also says smaller colleges have no reserve power and when the first team tires, they're through. Note Michigan and Northwestern, not so small, but they have no reserve power at all. If a coach can build up two or more teams as potent as the best of the opposition, let him use them, that's why they're there.

This Wake Is Conducted By

Harvey T. Woodruff.

"Win Without Beating."

Dear Wake: Regarding the discussion following the Illinois-Michigan game and Gilbert's observation, we have an excellent "win without beating and lose without excuse." In keeping with the above, did you ever hear of the time when an umpire forfeited a baseball game to Illinois because an Ohio State player resumed his regular position in center field after he had been put out of the game by the umpire while Ohio was at bat. Our good friend George Huff walked out onto the diamond and said, "We do not want to win ball games that way." The game was resumed and Ohio won. Did you hear a yelp? Nobody else did either.

"Bully for Old Purdue."

Purdue defeated Harvard, the first conference eleven ever to turn the trick, lost to Chicago through the inequitable point after touchdown, dropped a hard luck contest to Wisconsin, and valiantly played the Wolverines, and all without a win. Wilcox was out most of the season. Purdue right now is the best team in the conference with the possible exception of Minnesota, and I think we could take them. Give us a glad hand now and then.

Lafayette (We are here).

Wisconsin Heard From.

Say, Harve, we have a football team at Madison. Better come up for the Iowa game or see us against Chicago and you'll know. We lost hard games to Minnesota and Michigan, and had some difficulty beating Purdue. All right. Not much was expected of us. Our coach is in his first year. We'll win two more games this fall and it would be four more if Ohio State or Illinois were on the schedule.

Football Retrospect.

On Saturday, The Wake attempted to forecast 28 football, and 7 games resulted in ties. Season to date, 150 winners, 52 losers, 19 ties.

McKECHNIE GETS
O'FARRELL'S JOB
AS CARDS' BOSSShotton Named Manager of Phillies.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The open season for big league baseball managers which started several weeks ago with a charge of buckshot at Dave Bancroft's Boston National contract, yesterday reached a peak of sportsmanlike announcements when Bob O'Farrell, 1927 manager of the Cardinals, and Stuffy McKechnie, last summer's boss of the humiliated Phillies, had been winged simultaneously.

Bob O'Farrell, manager of the pennant winning Pirates in 1925, got the O'Farrell berth and Burt Shotton, rarely suspected of having major managerial talent until last summer when he led the Syracuse club to a close second in the International league, steps into the tough spot vacated by McKechnie.

The change at St. Louis is said to be a happy one for all concerned because O'Farrell never wanted the managership and retired from the job with a $5,000 raise to attend strictly to the business of catching. McKechnie was coach of the Cardinals last summer but frequent trips to the dugout made by O'Farrell in strategic situations during the season's play led to stories that McKechnie virtually was the Cardinals manager in 1927.

O'Farrell O. K.'s New Boss.

Whatever Bob's responsibilities, however, it was felt by the St. Louis natives that his efficiency as a catcher had been impaired by the managership. Sam Breadon said yesterday he had "become convinced that to spoil a great catcher like O'Farrell was an expensive way to obtain a manager."

Breadon said O'Farrell had told him that he believed McKechnie the logical man for the Cardinals managership and that he would exert himself to the utmost as a player under the new manager's direction.

The Cardinals president said that with the $5,000 raise O'Farrell would be the highest salaried catcher in baseball.

McKechnie Gets His Release.

McKechnie, who won his fame as a first baseman on the Athletics but who has been connected with six different major league clubs during his career, was given an unconditional release and made no announcement of his plans. McKechnie was the sixth manager who has tried and failed to get the Phillies out of the rut since 1918. Shotton, his successor, played with Washington, St. Louis Americans, and the St. Louis Nationals during his years in the ranks. The Syracuse club which he made a pennant contender during the 1927 season, is controlled by the Cardinals. His new contract is for two years, it was said.

Western Skating Ass'n
Officers to Be Re-elected

Officers of the Western Skating association were renominated last night at the annual nomination meeting, which was held at the Steiner A. C. The election will be held in two weeks. Edward A. Mahlik was renominated for the office of president, F. J. Bellay and Paul J. Staff for vice president, and Frank M. Kallaux for secretary-treasurer.

Court Airing of Kearns'
Suit Grows More Remote

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
New York, Nov. 7.—After more than a year of bitter machinations and recriminations, it is now reported that a gentle and understanding spirit will arise to spare Mr. Jack Dempsey, Mr. Tex Rickard, and the sinister Mr. Jack Kearns the common embarrassment of a court trial of Mr. Kearns' suit for $333,333.33.

Mr. Kearns has been so blunt in his informal outline of the matters which he would present for the consideration of the honorable court and the edification of the customers at large if his suit against Mr. Dempsey should come to trial in Trenton, N. J., on Nov. 15, as scheduled, that a compromise undoubtedly would represent a great saving even at twice the price asked by Mr. Kearns.

Courtroom Unpopular.

Of course, persons concerned in the prize fight of uplift profession have a well known natural aversion to courtroom, because there is usually a suggestion of barred windows in the architecture, and bullfights stand around the corners of the chain of their handcuffs in a manner calculated to unnerve any who are at all sensitive. Moreover, there is always the catch to tell the truth, so, on the whole, a courtroom is the last place to look for a prominent uplifter.

But in addition to all this, Mr. Kearns, in discussing his plans for the trial, has expressed an intention to cause a full discussion of various tax matters, political arrangements, and even the more delicate personal adventures of several gentlemen of great distinction in the prize fight profession.

Swimmer's Hoax
to End Hoaxes
Costs Her $550

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, Nov. 7.—With half a dozen English channel celebrities in court, Dr. Dorothy Logan and her trainer, Horace Carey, the central figures of the recent channel swim hoax, pleaded guilty to perjury before the lord mayor of London this afternoon. Dr. Logan was fined £110 (about $550), and Carey £55 (about $275).

Crowds were fighting for places in the court as the defendant arrived, smiling. After passing sentence, the lord mayor asked Dr. Logan, not only for perpetrating the hoax on the public, but also for treating with contempt and ridicule the British legal system. Dr. Logan's defense was that she already had been punished enough, that she had been called a swindler up hill and down dale, although she did not profit a penny by the hoax. Carey pleaded that he could not read well and did not realize what he was doing.

NOTRE DAME AND
MICHIGAN TACKLE
SERVICE ELEVENNebraska Goes East to Meet Pittsburgh.

Harvard-Michigan

NEGOTIATIONS for a home and home football game between Harvard and Michigan practically have been completed, according to information received from reliable sources. The compact, which will be drawn in the near future, calls for the teams to meet at Ann Arbor in 1929 and at Cambridge in 1930.

It will be the first time in Harvard's football history that a Crimson eleven has come into the west to meet a Big Ten eleven.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Three important intersectional struggles and as many sectional contests, results of which will have a bearing on national and divisional championship honors, top Saturday's football card.

In one of these intersectional contests, Notre Dame will meet the Army in New York City before a crowd of 87,000. Although Notre Dame was held to a tie by Minnesota last Saturday, the result of this game has not cooled the enthusiasm of eastern fans who always are eager to see the Fighting Irish.

Notre Dame was put to the test by the Gophers, and judging from accounts and comments of those who saw the game, Coach Rockne's eleven was outplayed. General opinion, however, is that the score denotes the defensive power of both teams.

Notre Dame will find the Army nearly as strong as Minnesota. The odds may present a more varied and concentrated attack than the Gophers, but they cannot be expected to put up a more stubborn defense.

Navy Eleven Comes West.
Bill Ingram will bring his Navy eleven into the west to meet Michigan at Ann Arbor. Although both teams have been defeated, the game should attract a capacity crowd, as the result means much to both elevens.

Nebraska, which was defeated by Missouri earlier in the season, 7 to 6, will go into the east to meet Pittsburgh. The Panthers are one of the undefeated elevens of the country, but were held to a scoreless tie by W. J. Saturday. Washington and Jefferson also is among the undefeated elevens.

The Cornhuskers are powerful. They have a strong line and a smashing back field. It is also a strong defensive aggregation, and indications are the battle may result in a tie.

Illinois, which is leading the chase for the Western conference championship, will meet Chicago at Champaign in the most important game in the middle west. Illinois has defeated Northwestern, Michigan, and Iowa in a row, and Coach Stagg's cripples round into form by the week-end, Illinois will have to play its best football to remain at the top of the championship ladder.

Princeton Plays Yale.
In the east, the annual battle between Princeton and Yale at New Haven will overshadow every other game including the Army-Notre Dame struggle in New York City. Although Old Eli has been defeated by Georgia, the Blue has shown some improvement since this setback that it is now rated on even terms with the Tigers.

Princeton, however, is a powerful football team. Coach Bill Roper has a strong line. It is fast, heavy and alert. It charges hard and low and the players continue to root after making their first lunges. There is power in the back field. Myer, the full back, is one of the best in the east.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

BY DON MAXWELL.

It is unfortunate for a team but a fine tribute to the man that every now and then you find a football eleven that crumples up when that one man is forced to leave the game.

Those of you who have watched Coach Stagg's eleven this fall have been talking a great deal and truthfully about the splendid playing of Ken Rouse. Something has made Rouse a football player this year. Maybe it was his election to the team captaincy. Perhaps it is just his season. No matter what the inspiration, there's no disputing the fact that the former Lindblom high school player in this, his senior year at the University of Chicago, has starred as few centers star.

The most striking evidence of what Rouse means to Chicago was presented last Saturday.

Throughout the first half the Wolverines and the Maroons had battled on almost equal terms. Chicago made one more first down in those first two periods than did Michigan. Layers was plunging through the Michigan line for yardage gains. Somebody was opening the holes.

Michigan, on the contrary, was finding the Chicago line almost impenetrable. Somebody was plugging the holes.

Then came the second half. Michigan received the kickoff and started a drive. Rouse was hurt on the second play. He got to his feet after time out and stayed in the game for another moment. That was all. Scarcely able to walk, Rouse was helped to the sidelines. When he stepped out of the lineup Chicago's line began to falter. Michigan pounded it unmercifully. And with their leader gone the Maroon forward wall could not stand that pounding. It had been Rouse who had made it a high tribute to the man.

Northwestern's team apparently is another one man eleven. As long as Tiny Lewis is able to remain in the back field the Purple has offensive power and desire to win.

Chicagoans returning from attendance at the Futurity, run last Friday at Pinhook, reveal the background for the unhappy season which culminated in the defeat of Rich Count and the revocation of Earl Sande's license.

Sande, astride Bateau, was in the lead. The horses were about to make the final turn and were galloping toward the home stretch when the noted jockey is alleged to have swung his mount toward the rail, where Chick Lang was coming up on Raigh Count. Sande crowded Bateau, it is said, into Raigh Count so viciously that the Chicago horse was jammed into the fence, the form of the collision being so severe that for a second Raigh Count was turned almost at a right angle to the rail.

When the race was over the stewards called Sande and Lang before them. A few minutes later came Bateau's disqualification and Sande's punishment.

Since then Sande's friends have argued that the punishment was too drastic and the stewards' judgment passed too hastily.

Chicagoans who saw the race explain the severity and alacrity with which the stewards acted by sketching the background of the old Bateau track.

Pinhook is rich in tradition. Its history dates back to the days of Andrew Jackson. Since his time the track has been conducted, not as a common place making turf plant, but on a plane of high ideals and rigid rules.

The men who control Pinhook have subordinated the idea of profits and stressed the importance of making the track the home of America's racing classics. The Futurity in the autumn and the Preakness in the spring have become high lights in this kind of sports.

No one receives passes to Pinhook. You can't pay your way into the clubhouse at Pinhook. Class and tradition—these form the background of the race track.

So you may realize how great the fury, how deep was the chagrin of Pinhook's rulers when the Futurity was marred by what the stewards believed to be a willful foul.

FATE OF TURF
SPORT HINGES ON STATE ELECTION

BY FRENCH LANE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—In the most spectacular election which Kentucky has seen in years, the fate of horse racing, as well as the supremacy of the Republican or Democratic parties, will be settled tomorrow.

It is not only the most spectacular battle of the ballot which the Blue Grass state has ever known, but it is the most bewildering in its lineup of issues and personalities.

What the voters do in tomorrow's gubernatorial contest will have a conclusive effect on whether the most historic of American turf classics, the Kentucky Derby, will be run at Churchill Downs next May or at the Lincoln Fields track in Chicago.

Situation Is Baffling.

To an outsider the political situation here is baffling. Not since the civil war, when the issue of slavery divided families, has a civic problem so torn partisan relations in this state.

Democrats are to be found today upholding both the candidates and the platform of their natural political foe, Republicans are discovered protesting the virtues of the Democratic office seekers and principles and demanding that all good Republicans vote for the Democratic ticket.

The bone over which both sides are snarling is the Kentucky Jockey club. And yet, Democrats who last year supported the Jockey club are this year backing the Republican candidate because he is sponsored by the racing interests. And Republicans who formerly were most vehemently opposed to any effort to repeal the pari-mutual law, under which racing is conducted in Kentucky, are now bitter in their support of the Democratic candidate for governor who has pledged himself to erase from the statute books the law which permits pari-mutual betting.

Judge Is Club's Candidate.

The Republican candidate is Judge Flen D. Sampson of the Court of Appeals, Kentucky's highest tribunal. While he has not committed himself on his stand on the betting law, it is understood that he is the candidate of the Kentucky Jockey club.

The Democratic candidate is J. G. W. Beckham, twice governor of Kentucky, once United States senator, and, unless all signs fail, again to be selected as governor tomorrow. Mr. Beckham has announced without any equivocation that his first duty as governor after he takes office on Dec. 13 will be to start legislative machinery to repeal the pari-mutual betting law. That this will kill racing in Kentucky is inevitable.

Since racing has never been conducted successfully without betting anywhere it has been tried, and since it seems that Mr. Beckham will win the chances for the 1930 run of the historic Kentucky Derby at Lincoln Fields might be represented in odds of 100 to 1.

And even if by some queer turn of the election the complete repeal of the pari-mutual law, which also will be settled tomorrow, should prevent Mr. Beckham from repealing the pari-mutual law, the doom of the Kentucky Jockey club is settled beyond any question.

For immediately following his induction into office Mr. Beckham will name a legislative committee on the Kentucky racing commission. This commission has absolute power over racing in this state. The commission alone dates and can limit any track to one day of racing each year. That is to say, they could limit Churchill Downs, where the Derby has been run for 53 years, to a one day meet. And they could set that date on March 1 or Nov. 30.

Has Complete Jurisdiction.

Nor is that all. The commission has complete jurisdiction over the slot of the stakes for each race, over the number of races that can be held on any one day, over what jockey shall ride or not ride, over what owner shall race or not race, over how many horses shall run in each race, over what the distance and weights shall be, over what the price of admissions shall be, over who shall be admitted to the enclosure and who shall be kept out.

All other issues being secondary to the fight for and against the Kentucky Jockey club, it is interesting to consider why horse racing should be the principal plank in both platforms and why the Democratic party should have declared a war to the finish on the Jockey club.

Mr. Beckham and Robert W. Hingham, owner of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, charge that the Jockey club has not been satisfied to limit its activities to racing, but has delved into every other political activity in the state.

To insure a legislature which would be friendly to the pari-mutual law the club and its political leaders have traded with assemblymen and state senators until its sinister influence, to quote Mr. Beckham directly, has been extended into every administrative department of the state.

Tonight both sides are claiming victory. It is raining and snowing throughout the state, which is usually regarded as a help to the Democratic party, because of the difficulty in getting to the polls in the mountainous Republican strongholds.

ROSE, WISCONSIN GRID STAR, READY FOR IOWA GAME

Thistlethwaite Gives Out New Plays.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—Gene Rose, Badger pony half back who has been kept out of strenuous practice because of injuries in the Minnesota game, was pronounced in good condition this afternoon and he carried the ball for substantial gains in a long offense scrimmage against the freshmen.

The scrimmage was ordered as soon as Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite gave the squad new plays to be used against Iowa in the homecoming game here Saturday.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—With the field in Memorial stadium covered with snow, Indiana university football men practiced in a driving storm today for their western conference game with Northwestern at Evanston Saturday. The tackling dummy has been renamed again. This time it is "Toby" Lewis, Northwestern's stellar fullback.

There is doubt whether Bob Matthews, guard; Weaver, end, and Shield, tackle, will be able to face the purple.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—In the face of a stinging sleet storm, the University of Illinois grid men staged a full session of practice today.

At this afternoon, their first looking toward the Saturday game with the Chicago Maroons.

Capt. "Fighting Bob" Belach led his first string through a snappy session of signal drill and dummy scrimmage. Cecil Perkins was elevated to a first string tackle today, on the basis of his good work against Iowa.

No hard work was on the schedule and four teams were sent through their paces by Coach Bob Zuppke and his assistants.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—With the eyes of the whole navy on the game against Michigan at Annapolis, the Naval Academy team made full use of the short practice period this afternoon, doing most of its work under the battery of strong electric lights.

The Ingrams, who saw Michigan defeat Chicago Saturday, let the midshipmen know that they have a big job on their hands at the end of the week.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—Spurred on by reports of the prowess of the Navy back field, Michigan's football team was put through a secret practice today in preparation for the game Saturday.

Jack Elliott, the Michigan scout who watched the Navy in action, brought word the Navy is well fortified with back field material.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—"The old army game"—fourteen years the tradition of the Notre Dame football team—was the next hurdle for the fighting Irish to come up against and the process of pointing for the West Point cadets began this afternoon. So far the said pointing could be only in the mental attitude, because the team has not as yet recovered sufficiently from the stiff fight with the heavy Minnesota team last Saturday on Carter field.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 7.—[Special.]—University of Iowa gridiron candidates mustered what little strength they had left today to start preparation for the Wisconsin game at Madison Saturday. The men who saw action against Illinois were put through a light drill, but the reserves were given a hard workout.

Iowa came out of the Illinois fray badly battered, but with no serious injuries. Schmidt, who was out last Saturday with a sprained ankle, will be ready for work.

George Lott Again Tops Chicago Tennis Rankings

George M. Lott Jr., the outstanding figure among America's younger generation of tennis players and an alternate on the 1937 United States Davis cup team, heads the Chicago city singles ranking for the fifth successive year in the rating list released last night by the Chicago Tennis association.

Lott, who is a student at Michigan State college, did not compete in the city championships this year, but his remarkable record for the season, which includes victories over Rene Lacoste and Big Bill Tilden, far overshadows the achievements of any other Chicago player.

Immigration Ban Keeps Blackhawk Star Out of U. S.

The Chicago Blackhawks of the National Hockey league may lose Chuck Gardner, their new star goal keeper.

The youngster, who came to the Hawks last spring along with Cecil Brown, a forward, from the Winnipeg club for a reported purchase price of $17,500, has been denied entrance to the United States by the government immigration officials.

The trouble was encountered yesterday while the Blackhawks were packing their bags in Winnipeg, where the squad has been in practice for the last month, preparatory to departing for Minneapolis where the first practice game of the season is to be played tomorrow night. He will have to remain on the Canadian side until his status is definitely settled.

Gardner is a Scotchman, and the Scotch immigration quota has been exhausted for the next five years. Major Frederic McLaughlin, president of the Blackhawks, however, is trying to have Gardner admitted under a six month permit. Gardner has lived in Canada several years but he hasn't become a citizen there.

Major McLaughlin last night declared that he would make a trip to Washington, if necessary, in an effort to have Gardner admitted to the country in time to play in the season's schedule.

A. L. UMPIRES PRESENT PLAQUE TO BAN TODAY

As an expression of admiration for Ben Johnson, their former boss, umpires of the American league will present to him today at Excelsior Springs, Mo., a bronze plaque embossed with a set of resolutions setting forth the part he played in the building of the national pastime. The presentation will be made by Umpires Clarence Rowland and "Brick" Owens and Hugh Brennan, one time part owner of the Milwaukee club.

Tilden Gets Section Title After Dispute

E. C. Delaporte, director of physical education in the public schools, yesterday unraveled the tangle in the central section of the City High School Football league by awarding the section championship to Tilden. The title had been disputed by Lindblom, which claimed a tie for first place.

Delaporte spent the entire day investigating the official scores of both teams and getting the referee's decision of a disputed score, which he decided in Lindblom's favor, would have caused a tie for the section title between Tilden and Lindblom. Referee Al Glick, who officiated in the Englewood-Lindblom contest Oct. 29, cleared up the controversy by ruling that Lindblom had won 25 to 6, and not 26 to 6, as Lindblom had contended.

Taking away the point cost Lindblom a tie with Tilden. The league rules state that if two teams are tied in games won and lost, the eleven with the greater total of points, with the opponents' points subtracted, would represent the section. Glick's ruling deprived Lindblom of a point and gave the school 29 points. Tilden has 50.

The decision was a bitter disappointment at Lindblom, where hopes had been entertained of winning the league championship for the fourth successive year.

Referee Glick explained the controversy of the disputed game by declaring the final point after the last touchdown was not made. He said he had waved his hands to signal that the attempted try for point had failed, but still Lindblom reported that the point had been made.

Overemphasis on winning, Delaporte and other school officials say, precipitated the trouble. Protests in other sections are brewing, but it is unlikely any further changes in the semi-finals will occur, Delaporte said last night.

Wendell Phillips, which was forced to forfeit two games in the south section because the school records showed that Rainey and Cobb, two regulars were over age, now is seeking their birth records in Mississippi to vindicate the boys and put its team back in the running for the title. Morgan Park was given the section title when Phillips was ruled out.

Eddie Shea Stops McLean in Second Round of Fight

Eddie Shea, the west side featherweight, won from Stewart McLean of Minneapolis by a technical knockout in the second round of the windup of Mike Malloy's boxing show at the White City last night. After McLean had been knocked down twice in the opening round for nine counts and again in the second round for eight, his seconds tossed a towel into the ring after one minute and 55 seconds of fighting.

McLean was outclassed. McLean was no match for the Italian who connected with every punch he turned loose. He scored all his knockdowns with left hooks and the crowd of 4,000 which paid about $2,000 to see the fight shouted for the referee to stop the uneven contest after McLean was hopelessly beaten in the second round. Stewart's eyes were puffed and his lips were cut badly. They weighed 125½ pounds.

Red Uhlman, the red headed southpaw from California, won all the way from Wolcott Langford, local colored middleweight, in the slight round semi-windup. Uhlman shot straight rights to Langford's face at will and crossed his left to the face and body for damaging results. Wolcott could not land effectively because of the pumeling defense of his opponent who blocked most of Langford's blows with his gloves and forearms. They met at 163 pounds.

Ted Henry Wins.

In the opening bout Ted Henry, the Englewood 132 pounder, won the six round decision over Tony Caponi of the stockyards. Tim O'Keefe, South Chicago light heavyweight, was given the verdict over John Ruddy of Grand Crossing in the second opener and Ted Rose of South Chicago won the judges' decision from Joe Miller of Woodlawn in the other preliminary.

William R. Fetzer and E. L. Cook were the judges and Phil Collins and Sammy Ford handled the fights in the ring.

American Association Club Owners to Gather on Dec. 3

President Thomas Hickey of the American association yesterday called a meeting of the club owners for Dallas, Tex., Dec. 3. The session will be held in advance of the National Association of Minor leagues, Dec. 6, 7, and 8.

At New York—Bill Falson beat Mike Mackay (10); Blaise May beat Mike Fosse (8); Al Walker beat Arthur De Kok (10); Phil Kaplan beat Harry Rhodes (6). At Philadelphia—Tony Charnock knocked out Billy Henry (5).

At Omaha, Neb.—Mike Russell stopped Marie Schallier (3).

At Boston, Mass.—Chick Suggs beat Jackie Robinson (10).

At Buffalo, N.Y.—Harry Feller beat Eddie Friedman (6).

At Kansas City, Mo.—Larry Capps beat Lee Wax (10); Spider Kelly knocked out Bobby Cox (5); Eddie Sylvester knocked out Tom Adams (5).

Promoter Coffey yesterday received word from the managers of McLarin and Wallace that they would accept the Mandell match.

Mandell yesterday started the last lap of preparation for the Myers match by boxing six rounds with his sparring partners. Myers also went through a stiff day's work. Both fighters will continue this strenuous preparation through Friday.

CUBS' PITCHERS ORDERED TO CAMP TEN DAYS EARLY

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

When the 1937 National league championship affair got under way Joe McCarthy was surprised, not to say shocked, to discover that he possessed a large supply of pitchers with glass arms. This condition proved exceedingly embarrassing for at least several weeks after the turnstiles started to operate and there were days when the Cub chief didn't have even one man in working order. He promptly decided he had made a mistake in his estimate as to time required to bring the mound men out of their winter slabbiness into the state known as the "pink."

With hope of dodging the difficulty that popped up unexpectedly last spring, McCarthy already has passed along the word that means more work for those who aspire to hang on as members of the staff. He is going to assemble them on Catalina island about ten days in advance of the usual squad and if this extra work on the ball field, not to say extra work with the knife and fork, doesn't get results, McCarthy is certain to have a bad case of nervous indigestion before the season is two weeks gone.

Last spring the Cubs pulled out of here Feb. 24 and went to work in their island camp Feb. 25. Next spring the pitchers, as well as the catchers, will be taken west about Feb. 15.

FALL BUSINESS
LESS THAN 1926,
SURVEY SHOWS

BY O. A. MATHER.

When the records of this year's general business are cast up, it is probable that 1927 will not prove as good as was 1926. But last year was the most prosperous in American economic history. This year is likely to prove about the equal of 1925, which was one of the best three years.

"Fall business is not as good as it was last year," THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE Survey for November says. "This conclusion is reached whether the amount of business activity be gauged by men or goods. Fewer people are at work in manufacturing establishments, the factories are not turning out as much product as they were a year ago, and the railroads have not as many cars to move. Buying at department stores is less than in 1926, partly because of the falling off in demand for cool weather articles."

Business Disappointing.

"A bare-sighted look at the bare statistics of the present leaves one disappointed, if not alarmed. The disappointment arises partly out of the widespread practice of using last year's records as the inevitable index by which to be enthused or depressed about this year's results."

"The building construction, steel and automobile industries have been the principal support of all American commerce. The automotive industry this year has shown the least building support of any of the three pillars of prosperity. Reports on production support those of sales, showing a 15 per cent drop from the level of last year. But the drop is almost entirely confined to the lowest price range. Employment in the industry is about 10 per cent less than a year ago, indicating that 150,000 workers lost their jobs."

Recession in Steel.

"The absence of the light pick-up in the steel industry has been one of the outstanding characteristics of the present year. October has regularly witnessed the reaching of the autumn peak in ingot output. The last month, however, not only saw no gain but a further recession tendency prevailed during most of the month."

"Increases in building of public works and by public utilities have more than offset declines in other construction work during the present year, with the result that the aggregate level of building now gives promise of establishing a record that is even larger than that of the peak mark of one year ago. Prospective building gives no suggestion of a recession from the present level and means that general business still has its meal ticket."

Trade Reports Mixed.

Data on conditions in trade and industry continued mixed yesterday. Steel mill operations in the Youngstown district are at about the same level as in the last week. New York state factories have 22,000 fewer employees than a year ago, according to a report by the industrial commissioner.

On the other hand, the F. W. Woolworth company, operating chain stores, reported a new peak for October sales. The total was $26,031,788, a gain of almost 5 per cent over last year. Sales for the ten months this year totaled $258,113,779, a gain of more than 2 per cent over the same period last year.

"October has brought nothing to light calculated to disturb confidence in the business outlook," the National City bank's review says. "With improvement in the agricultural sections and no marked unemployment in the cities, hold retail trade should be in larger volume than ever before."

New Financing Record.

Due largely to a big increase in public utility and foreign loans, new investment financing in the United States during October established another high record. An unprecedented amount in the two classes of loans mentioned brought the 1927 total of public utility offerings to $1,536,530,000 and in foreign loans to a $1,147,345,000 mark.

During the month a total of $29,058,780 in new bond and note issues was offered to the public, according to the compilation of Lawrence Stern & Co. This compares with $538,983,320 in September and $522,021,240 in October, 1926.

This was equal to $2.35 a share on its 1,152,918 shares of capital stock (par $1) in 1926, against $2.01 a share in 1925. The stock of the company was sold at $2.01 a share in 1926, compared with $2.01 a share at the close of 1925.

Current assets amounted to $4,461,800 and current liabilities to $731,811 at the end of 1926.

This left net working capital of $3,729,989, which compares with $3,719,811 at the close of 1925.

Dividends have been paid each year since June, 1917.

The present annual rate is 50 cents a share.

In addition extras totaling 90 cents a share have been paid this year to date, and 60 cents in extras was paid in 1926. The stock deserves a fair rating among speculative stocks.

WHEAT SLIPS OFF AFTER MOVING UP IN EARLY TRADE

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Reports of frost in western Argentina where the crop is in the critical stage of development, with rust in the province of Santa Fe, brought in fair local and commission house buying of wheat after a fair decline early, but the finish was at intermediate figures with prices unchanged to 1/4 cent. December finished at $1.25 1/2, and March, $1.25 1/2 to $1.26. Corn developed considerable strength, due to the forecast for unsettled weather and a better cash demand, and gained 1/4 cent to $0.94 1/2, and wheat after a fair decline early, but the finish was at intermediate figures with prices unchanged to 1/4 cent. Small Increase in Visible.
An increase of only 24,000 bu. in the domestic visible supply of wheat was a distinct surprise to the trade, but failed to have much effect on the market. Total stocks are 85,640,000 bu., against 72,421,000 bu. last year. Winnipeg had a holiday. A foot of snow was reported in some parts of southern Alberta and the forecast was for unsettled weather, with private estimates indicating as much as 30 per cent of the Alberta crop still remained to be threshed. Liverpool closed 1/16 higher on the Argentine news. World's statistics were generally bullish, with shipments from all countries the last week aggregating 18,000,000 bu., the largest of the season, compared with 17,000,000 bu. the previous week, and 14,444,000 bu. last year.

No Pressure on Corn.
Corn showed independent strength, and buying, limited, and an advance was easily attained. The forecast was for rain to move over the entire grain belt, and there was a better eastern shipping demand, with sales of 145,000 bu. by Chicago handlers. Sellers of corn were forced to protect themselves on the way up. Bulge was checked by profit taking and selling against offers. Buenos Aires closed unchanged with December 76c. Domestic visible supply increased 1,500,000 bu. for the week, and is 22,000,000 bu. against 21,322,000 bu. last year. Commission houses were fair buyers of oats, and with strength in corn market was firm throughout the day and the close was at the top. Visible supply decreased 314,000 bu. for the week. Trade in rye was light, and prices held within a narrow range.

Berlin Bourse Reacts

to S. P. Gilbert Note

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—(U.P.)—The bourse reacted promptly today to the publication of the recent memorandum of S. Parker Gilbert, reparations agent, and the government's reply, as well as an unsatisfactory report of the German steel trust which disclosed its strained financial position. Quotations after Saturday's weakness dropped further today, some shares losing 1/2 cent. The Deutsche Glaswerk fell 1/2 cent and the Dyse about 1/4 cent, bear speculators making the most of the situation. In bourse circles it is feared that the bi-monthly settlement day may disclose losses possibly reaching those of the "Black Friday" of some months ago when it became known that the Reichsbank was strongly in favor of retrenchment.

Pines Winterfront Co.

Increases Its Dividend

The Pines Winterfront company yesterday increased its annual dividend rate from $3 to $5 by declaring a quarterly payment of 75 cents. The Standard Oil Company of Indiana declared an extra dividend of 25 cents a share. Cotoy, Inc., declared an extra dividend of $1 a share. The Reid Ice Cream company declared a dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock for the period Oct. 1 to Dec. 10. The company will be merged with the Borden company on Jan. 1.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Report sales of wheat in all positions were finally estimated at 200,000 to 400,000 bu., largely Pacific coast grain. In some quarters it was claimed that a cargo of Pacific coast wheat about due to arrive at an Italian port had been sold about 75c under replacement cost. A little business was done in rye.

Chicago Matrons Find Philanthropies More Exacting Than Society

BY NANCY R.

No matter how wearying the festivities of the night before last, the matrons of the established social leaders are to be found at home after nine o'clock these November mornings, for each of them has her pet philanthropy to which she is as devoted as an American man is to his business.

Take Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, for instance. She returned from a recent summer in California, refreshed and ready for the demand of a Chicago winter, and as head of the woman's board for the Passavant Memorial hospital drive, president of the Queens club, and honorary president of the White and Blue club, the demands on her energy, time and good nature are anything but few.

Each day she wends her way bright and early over to her office at the business club to work for the success of the annual horse show which is to be given there this month—from the 22d to the 26th—for the benefit of the Passavant Memorial hospital drive, an event which Mrs. Coleman is planning to make one of the most brilliant affairs on record in our social history.

Then there is Mrs. George A. McKim, who with her husband spent October out at their Lake Forest house, their last autumn under its roof, as the house has been sold—and after discharging its duties, moved into the spacious apartment at 938 Lake Shore drive which they will occupy until they go to Palm Beach. Only occasionally, however, does she have time to sit down and survey her new domain, for she is putting in most of her time just now at the Red Cross office, getting everything ready for the annual campaign. Mrs. McKim, with her reputation as a fund-raiser, and her position as one of the guiding spirits of the Chicago Red Cross for several years, and it is largely due to her untiring efforts that the organization makes its fine showing each year.

Day's News in Society

The Chicago Junior league has a new artistic accomplishment over which to boast. Two of its members are mentioned in an "Anthology of Poetry" comprising poems by league members which have already appeared in the Junior league magazine. Dorothy Aldis, who is Mrs. Graham, and the author of a successful book of verse, "Anything and Everything," and Polly Chase, who is in private life, Mrs. Preston Boyden of the Junior league, are two of the contributors. The book is done in blue and orange and bears the flattering comment, "For some years the high quality of verse appearing in the Junior Bulletin has commanded critical attention. This collection, authorized by the Association of Junior Leagues of America, and edited by Ruth Fitch Bartlett, brings together the best poems by its members. Among the poets represented are Dorothy Aldis, Faith Baldwin, Polly Chase, Eleanor Carroll Chilton, Nancy Hoyt, Theda Kenyon, and Mildred Sullivan."

The children's committee of the Friendly Aid society will give a musical tea at the home of Mrs. H. L. Monahan, 4600 Kimbark avenue, tomorrow at 2 o'clock. Morton Howard, pianist, will give the program. Mrs. Wilbur McWhinney will sing. Mrs. Monroe will be assisted by Mrs. E. F. Wray, Mrs. P. H. Kreuscher, and the committee.

The St. Luke's fashion show was such a success, netting $31,500 for the hospital, that the enterprising women's board has decided to repeat the same benefit affair again next year, and has taken the Stevens ballroom for Oct. 12.

Mrs. Charles W. Pope of 1510 Dearborn parkway is to entertain at a debutante luncheon today for Miss Virginia Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wallace of Winnetka, and Miss Wallace's aunt, Mrs. Florian D. Wallace, is to give a similar affair for her on Thursday at her residence at 1410 Astor street.

Mrs. Joseph L. Valentine of 1323 Bluffview court has issued cards for members of the Chicago Smith College club to meet Prof. Emeritus Harry Norman Gardner, at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Somerville, known of Hinsdale are receiving congratulations upon the birth on Sunday of a daughter at the Presbyterian hospital. Mrs. Knowlton is the former Miss Nora Eustis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Eustis, formerly of Chicago, now residing in China, Vt., Cal.

Miss Elizabeth Scott Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Taylor of Memphis, Tenn., became the bride of William H. Taylor Jr. at the Lake Forest Episcopal church last Friday. Mrs. Taylor, the bride's aunt, gave a reception for the bride and bridegroom at the Wilshire Lake Forest residence after the ceremony.

The bride's mother was among the few guests present. Both Mr. Taylor and his bride were popular members of the younger set in Memphis. The former Miss Taylor was a debutante last season.

The wedding of Miss Frances F. Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Gaines of Greenwich, Conn., and Owen Pardee Jacobson of Chicago, is to take place in Greenwich on Tuesday, Nov. 15. W. W. Taylor of Highland Park is to be best man for his cousin, and Ruth Butler Jr. is to be one of the bridesmaids.

Ileana of Roumania

Called Perfect Girl

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Princess Ileana, 18 year old daughter of Queen Marie of Roumania, has been pronounced by the director of the Roumanian state physical culture academy to be one of the most perfectly developed girls in Europe. He attributes her beauty of form and limbs to constant gymnastics, swimming and outdoor sports. Her measurements approximate those of the physically perfect woman, he says.

The charming young princess is an ardent devotee of horseback riding, fencing, tennis, mountain climbing, skating, and skiing. As president of the Girl Scouts of Roumania, she spends much of her time in camping, boating, swimming, and athletics.

Tribune Architect Is on Shakespeare Committee

New York, Nov. 7.—(Special)—Raymond M. Hood, architect, associated with John M. Howells in the construction of the Chicago Tribune Tower, has been appointed a member of the international committee of awards to judge plans submitted for the Shakespeare memorial theater, to be erected in Stratford-on-Avon. The final decision of the plan will be awarded this week and Mr. Hood is now in Stratford. The theater will cost $750,000.

Art Exhibit Reception.

Members of several women's clubs will receive and Mrs. Charles S. Deussen will pour today at the exhibit of the All-Illinois Society of the Fine Arts, which will be held through next Tuesday at the Bismarck hotel. The program today will be in charge of Mrs. Herman Peritz, president of the Chicago Literary Score, and Mrs. D. E. Reynolds, president of the Women's society of the People's church.

Plan for Benefit Dance.

The Juniors of the Chicago Consumptive Aid society and the men's division are to hold a "pep" meeting at the Bismarck hotel this evening preparatory to the Juniors' fourth annual dance at the Hotel La Salle on Sunday evening. Mrs. J. J. Mendelsohn is in charge of the dance. Miss Anne Willis is president of the Juniors, and Hy Saposnik of the men's division.

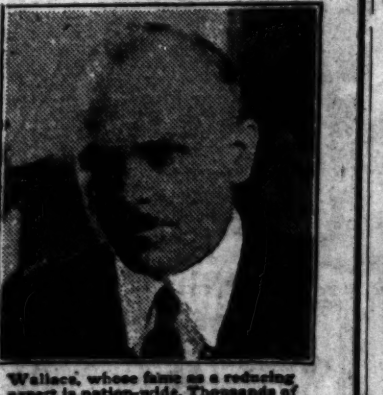

Tiers Enhance This Afternoon Frock.

BY JEANETTE EATON.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence].—Shades are gathering in the late autumn afternoon costume. Almost every collection of two-piece or composed models for daytime wear reveals a tendency toward two-toned effects. Printed velvets are one medium for the display of this preference. For example, one individual model combines a plain gray velvet skirt with bodies of the same fabric striped in two shades of gray. Another frock, this time a jumper adapted from Vionnet, uses checked velvets in two shades of brown for blouse and skirt, the former finished with a shawl collar of self material.

The same tendency is shown in the blouse which tops the favorite afternoon costume of the season. Metal brocade forms the blouse, usually revealing in the pattern two tones of gold. The skirt is most often of black velvet, sometimes of circular cut, but always simple in draping. Crêpe and tulle, however, may be used in combination with the brocade or lame jumper. One effective costume poses a blouse of finger tip length over an allover plaid skirt of scarlet crêpe. Metal cloth of gold with red shading makes the blouse.

Today we are showing a two-piece model in crêpe. The three tiered skirt with its irregular silhouette and petal like platts shows two shades of mauve, graduating upwards from dark to light. A third shade, still lighter in tone, appears in the long sleeved blouse. This is made with seamings to form a long V, widely opened at the top. Here we have one more indication that tiers have not been abandoned. Indeed, every now and then one observes an example of the altered frock.

Invest Heavily in Words of Praise; You Won't Be Sorry

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Some time ago an investigation was conducted among housewives on what their experiences were found to be their most discouraging forms of labor. The answer was, almost to a woman, working without ever a word of praise or encouragement.

Yes, we all need praise. We crave it, not because we are vain, self-centered creatures, but because we are stilled without it. It's vitamin A, B, C, D and any other vitamin yet to be discovered to our systems. It's the lime and the iron that strengthen the wavering and the timid, which most of us are, at one time or another.

It is as necessary to a child as sunlight or its substitute, cod liver oil. The youngster who isn't given praise when praise is due is crippled for life with feelings of inferiority.

Being all of these things, why are we so stingy with the cheering word? It's cost is so simple. It can be afforded by every one, and if you're looking for an investment that pays the highest per cent in the market of human relations, take a flyer in praise and encouragement. Be reckless and invest heavily. In your old age your chances of sitting pretty in the hearts of those close to you will be absolutely assured if you are generous now with the word that cheers.

The housewife's work is her job, to be sure. She should conduct her work to the best of her ability. But because it is monotonous she, more than any other individual, needs the comfort of appreciation.

Employers understand that to get the best work out of their men, the greatest loyalty, a word of praise is necessary now and then.

Those who deny the lack of gratitude in the world forget the feeling of warmth that goes to one who is not meager in his praise of work well done.

YOU, THE READER OF THESE COLUMNS, ARE INTERESTED IN MAKING MONEY.

This I Take for Granted. Here Is My Offer To You: I am representing the interests of one of the largest corporations in this country. I need the services of a few capable men who have sold successfully high class merchandise, including real estate, bonds, or insurance.

To the man I select there is a great big, bright future ahead. To qualify you must be clean cut, with responsibilities on your shoulders, and a burning desire to make money.

I shall be pleased to interview men with the above qualifications and with no set ideas as to how the world should treat them, but rather with determined views as to how they can command the respect of the world.

Come before 2:30 PM on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday to the Hotel Sherman and ask at the desk for a personal interview with F. Henderson.

IF YOU CAN SELL HERE'S YOUR BIG CHANCE.

A real job for a real man. This firm is well and favorably known. Its word comes weighty everywhere. We seek men because this organization has been active for many years past and knows where the future is bright for any man who can sell.

We will give you a salary, not just what you want to make. Money is not scarce. If you prove to be a good worker and a good personality and if you have some idea of how to grow your business we will spend $50 per week on you.

THIS IS WHAT YOU WILL:
Beautiful wooded property. Water front. Improved land. Local investment and sale for transportation of property. Selling at low price. Large acreage. Today, discriminating people pick out high priced land. They know it is rare. In Chicago to have a house in rolling and wooded country, even though it is near city and mountains. An other development offers such a fine view. The area is rich in game and coal. Unlimited possibilities to use in any way desired. Price and terms of delivery as well as the probable relation of cost versus return appear so attractive as the physical scene described below.

For further information come to my office on the second floor of the Commercial Building, 12 N. Main, General Manager.

I Want an Experienced DIVISION MANAGER.

I will Give You SALARIES FOR OTHER SALESMEN.

Your own individual advertising operation.

Cooperation and support not equal anywhere else.

YOU WILL HAVE

Best established name and reputation of any real estate firm in Chicago.

Fine suburban property within driving distance of Chicago.

An abundance of leads from both mailings each day.

R. REDLICH,
President.

HINKAMP & COMPANY,
100 W. Monroe-st.

I CHALLENGE YOU

To find a better proposition in all Chicago. Joined this firm last January after three months ago. Before that time I had spent $1000 and kept losing money. I lost millions and hundreds. Not bad considering the result came back to me. After three months prior to joining this organization I worked for several firms and lost thousands in Chicago. I didn't make a single cent. Now I have a lot of money. I am a grave-rover, good dresser, wonderful negotiator and I feel like a king. I have lots of money and no debt. What more can a salesman and are not getting the results you usually expect in such a short time. You'll be on easy street by Christmas.
